Ike Takes First Food By Mouth Since Operation

MURDER SUSPECT — Carl Daniel Kier is shown being taken from police headquarters to the Baltimore County jail after his arrest yesterday on a charge of murder in the death of Mrs. John H. ### Medics Approve Adenauer Visit

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP) — President Eisenhower, after resting and dozing most of the afternoon, drank some broth today—the first food he has taken by mouth since his intestinal operation last Saturday.

He was "very happy" to get the clear beef broth, even though it was less than half a cupful.

Eisenhower also was relieved at the removal all afternoon of the uncomfortable nose-to-stomach decompression tube inserted after the operation for drainage purposes.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said however, the tube may have to be restored if necessary to prevent nausea and drain the stomach and intestinal tract.

Ike "Quite Chipper"

A medical bulletin issued from Walter Reed Hospital at 5:05 p.m. pictured the President's spirits as "high throughout the day" and said his condition "continues to be satisfactory."

He had been reported earlier as a bit thinner but "quite chipper" after spending half an hour at work in his hospital bed this morning.

He got out of bed twice for about 30 minutes during the morning and walked about his room. He planned some more walking exercise this evening.

The physicians gave their approval for West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to call on Eisenhower tomorrow morning.

NSC Meeting Called Off

A meeting of the National Security Council, scheduled for tomorrow, was called off partly because of that visit. Hagerty said tonight the session had been cancelled because several of the Cabinet-rank members have conflicting appointments. Vice President Nixon was to have presided.

Eisenhower spent a half-hour conferring with chief aide Sherman Adams and other staff members and giving a little dictation to his personal secretary. In the course of these talks he signed 27 bills and other official papers—including the nomination of Los Angeles Judge Victor R. Hansen to head the Justice Department's Antitrust Division.

Former Convict Held In Matron's Brutal Slaying

BALTIMORE, June 13 (AP) — An address on a tossed-away slip of paper led to an ex-convict who was charged today with the brutal slaying of a mother of four in her fashionable Baltimore County home.

Knifed and savagely beaten yesterday was 48-year-old Mrs. John H. Bopst III, wife of an official of a Baltimore mechanical engineering firm. Police said apparently she had been raped.

Young Suspect Free On Parole

Charged with the murder was Carl Daniel Kier, 21-year-old Negro, who prison officials said was free on parole last August from the Maryland State Reformatory after a burglary conviction.

He was formerly from Roanoke, Va.

Kier's arrest came, police said, after an attorney who lives near the Bopst home reported a Negro had been in the neighborhood looking for work as a handyman during recent weeks.

The attorney recalled writing the name and address of the job-seeker on a piece of paper which later was thrown away.

Kier Puts Up No Resistance

A squad of detectives fund Kier in bed and took him into custody. He put up no resistance.

An auto stolen from the Bopst home was found about a mile from Kier's home.

At the Kier home police dismantled a toilet. They said they found a set of keys in the gooseneck of the bowl.

Police took Kier's clothing for examination and ordered a complete physical examination for him. They also were comparing a pair of pants found in Kier's room with a coat apparently left at the murder scene by the killer.

Friend Of Ike Named French Envoy To U.S.

PARIS, June 13 (INS)—Herve Alphand, an old friend of President Eisenhower, was designated new French ambassador to the United States today in a major reshuffle of diplomats.

Alphand would succeed Maurice Couve DeMurville in the Washington assignment. Couve DeMurville was understood to be slated to replace Louis Joxe as ambassador to West Germany when Joxe succeeded the retiring Rene Massigli as secretary general of the French foreign ministry.

Sen. Knowland Backs Aid Boost Over House Sum

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican Senate leader, said today the administration "has made and is making a strong case" for a larger foreign aid authorization than the House voted.

Knowland talked with reporters after Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, said the administration hasn't yet made a convincing case for a larger sum.

The Republican leader declined to say whether he thought the administration case was strong enough to warrant restoring 600 million dollars of the reduction voted by the House under White House requests.

Increase "Justified"

He said the case was, however, strong enough to justify Senate approval of a sum "somewhere between" the House figure of $3,800,000,000 and the administration request of $4,900,000,000.

Knowland frequently has disagreed with some aspects of administration foreign policy and his comment today was his first in support of an increase over the House figure.

He said the Foreign Relations Committee, which began working on the foreign aid bill in morning and afternoon sessions today, may start voting tomorrow on the size of the authorization.

The committee, of which Knowland is a member, held a 2½-hour afternoon session today.

Bipartisan Support Needed

Knowland said he hadn't joined in an appeal by 10 Republican senators for a boost in the House-voted sum because he didn't want to commit himself on something of that nature before the Foreign Relations Committee had a chance to evaluate the administration's supporting data for an increase.

He also said it was a partisan statement and that passage of the foreign aid bill will require bipartisan support.

Democratic Leader Johnson said:

"The administration is going to have to make a case which it hasn't done yet.

"If it makes a case, fortifies the testimony its officials gave the House, the Senate will do what is best for the country."

Steelworkers Offered Pay Hike

NEW YORK, June 13 (AP)—A pay boost appeared assured tonight for the 650,000 workers in the nation's basic steel industry.

A wage increase was included in a counter offer by the Big Three steel firms today to a union proposal for a "substantial" increase and other benefits in a new contract.

The amount of the pay offer was not disclosed publicly.

Officials of the union, the United Steelworkers of America, gave no immediate indication of whether they considered the offer adequate—but they continued to express hope for an early agreement.

A layoff pay program reportedly was included also in the package offers of the three big steel firms—U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic. Terms were not divulged.

A management four-man committee presented the offers to a union four-man negotiating team in a closed-door session in the Hotel Roosevelt, where the two groups have been meeting intermittently since June 5.

Adenauer Says U.S. Must Join In Any Reunity Talks

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer declared today West Germany would negotiate with Russia for German reunification only if the United States, Britain and France joined in the talks.

The visiting West German leader made the statement at a reception given him by press, radio and television reporters.

A little earlier, he and Secretary of State Dulles joined in a call upon Russia to show the world its sincerity by respecting "its international obligations" and "to refrain from endeavoring to impose its system upon other peoples."

Adenauer told those at the reception that in all matters he and Dulles "found ourselves always in agreement with one another."

The 80-year-old Adenauer cautioned that the West must not be deceived by Russia's "propaganda and smiles" in the post-Stalin era.

"For myself," he said, "I firmly believe that nothing has changed. It makes no difference with a dictatorship whether it is one man, three men or ten men. Every dictatorship negates justice, law and liberty."

Adenauer was questioned on a variety of subjects, including whether he knew if Russia had developed a medium-range ballistic missile.

Adenauer, smiling blandly, noted that he recently had been in Moscow but he commented:

"The Russians didn't tell me anything about that, they don't give away any of their secrets."

But he said firmly that he nevertheless doesn't always believe the Russians when they say they have developed such modern weapons.

Combine Set Up To Boost Coal Exports

Key Mine And Rail Interests And UMW Form Partnership

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Key coal and railroad interests today announced an "unprecedented partnership" with a rich labor union to set up their own shipping firm and sell American coal all over the world.

Walter J. Tuohy, president of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, announced formation of a 50-million-dollar coal export corporation with Richard L. Bowditch, former president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, as its chairman.

Tuohy said the new firm, owned by some of the nation's largest coal producers, coal-carrying railroads and the United Mine Workers, wants to boost the present 42 million tons annual coal export market to 100 million tons.

Lewis, Kennedy On Board

John L. Lewis and Thomas Kennedy, president and vice president of the mine workers union, are members of the new concern's board of directors. Lewis attended a National Coal Assn. convention luncheon where Tuohy made his announcement.

Tuohy said there is growing demand for coal in Europe, Asia and South America, that this country has the coal reserves to fill those needs, and adequate railroad facilities to freight coal to ocean docks.

"The weak link in the picture is shipping," Tuohy said. "We just don't have enough ships. We are going to find them, lease them, buy them or build them ourselves and fill the demand for American coal."

Ocean Shipping Costs High

He cited figures showing that ocean transportation costs more than both mining coal and bringing it by rail to port. He said coal costs roughly $4 a ton at the mine, rail charges round about $5 to $7 a ton, but ocean shipping charges run about $11 a ton.

"The superior coals of the United States can be mined and delivered to tidewater piers, ready for shipment overseas, at much less than the cost of coal at the mines in Great Britain, Germany, France and other coal-producing countries," Tuohy said.

Humphrey OKs Debt Ceiling Cut

WASHINGTON, June 13 (INS)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D) Va., announced today that Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey has agreed to a three billion dollar reduction in the federal debt limit, effective July 1.

The chairman of the Senate Finance Committee said the debt ceiling is "an important control over federal expenditures."

Byrd pointed out that the present temporary debt limit is 281 billion dollars and that the reduction would take it down to 278 billions.

He added: "Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has concurred in this reduction.

"In view of the present huge unexpended balances in appropriated funds which, on the basis of the President's new budget requests, in the coming fiscal year starting July 1 would total $141,000,000,000, the public debt ceiling is an important control over federal expenditures.

"This is the first reduction that has been made in the debt ceiling for 10 years. I am hoping that next year a further reduction can be made and we'll work to that end. It is time that we start to pay on our huge federal debt."

Education Bill Sent Ike

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP) — Congress sent to President Eisenhower today legislation to provide education beyond high school for children of servicemen dead as a result of World War II or Korean service.

The House took the final legislative action by agreeing to Senate amendments.

Refugee Resists Reds

VIENNA, June 13 (AP)—A Soviet tourist requesting asylum rejected attempts today by the Russian Embassy to persuade him to return home.

Cain Questions Need Of Loyalty Program

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Harry P. Cain told Congress today he believes there is "serious question whether we need a so-called loyalty program in this country."

Cain made this statement to a Senate Judiciary subcommittee on constitutional rights after saying President Eisenhower showed "deep concern and interest" in his proposals for revamping the federal loyalty-security program.

Continuing testimony he began yesterday, Cain said that among thousands of government workers listed as security risks over the years, it would be hard to count a dozen who actually were found to be disloyal.

The former Republican senator from Washington State declared that the security program has been marked by "Fascist" type abuses which make even application for a federal job "a terrifying and inhumane trap."

He submitted to the subcommittee a number of individual cases which he said pointed up injustices in the program. Chairman Hennings (D-Mo) promised a thorough inquiry into each case.

Cain also repeated his criticism of the attorney general's list of subversive organizations. To list organizations as bad "without those in authority bothering to define why the organizations are bad is to employ a weapon from the arsenal of the tyrant," he said.

He said he has serious doubts the list is needed "in a free society."

Cain, an Eisenhower-appointee to the Subversive Activities Control Board, long has been an outspoken critic of the loyalty-security program. He has indicated that for this reason he does not expect reappointment to the $15,000-a-year job when his term expires in August.

Eisenhower met with Cain at the White House last Thursday. Until then, Cain testified, Eisenhower apparently was unaware that spies and drunks are counted alike in the over-all tabulation of security risk firings.

Coast Guard Station Evacuated In Storm

NEW ORLEANS, June 13 (AP)—Coast Guard and Navy helicopters today rescued five men who were in a Coast Guard station threatened by high seas whipped up by the season's first tropical disturbance.

The station is located in the Southwest Pass at the mouth of the Mississippi River.

The rescued men said the danger to the building did not seem as serious as it appeared earlier, the Coast Guard said.

Coastguardmen at the station reported weather conditions serious in the Gulf of Mexico, with winds up to 45 miles an hour.

Child Eats Golf Ball But Doesn't Feel Under Par

BALTIMORE, June 13 (AP)—Many a golfer has threatened to "eat the golf ball" after missing an easy putt.

Daniel Lee Stuart, who's not old enough to play the game yet, did just that yesterday. He was treated at Union Memorial Hospital yesterday after he ate part of the filling from a golf ball he found on the front lawn of his home.

Doctors said the 18-month-old boy apparently suffered no ill effects. Didn't feel under par, you might say.

"Heat Strike" Idles Chrysler Workers

DETROIT, June 13 (AP)—Nearly 16,000 Chrysler Corp. workers were idled today by a "heat strike" and another walkout protesting firing of two union stewards.

Some 6,000 were sent home from the Chrysler Kercheval and Jefferson plants when 13 painters walked off their jobs because of 92-degree heat.

Another 9,960 were idled at the Plymouth and Mack body plants when 1,100 trim department workers walked out protesting discharge of two United Auto Workers stewards last week.

Builder Called Traitor For Trip To China In 1952

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Henry Willcox, president of a Long Island construction company, testified today he took part in a 1952 "peace" conference in Red China.

Rep. Kearney (R-NY) promptly denounced him publicly as a traitor to America.

Willcox, a 66-year-old resident of South Norwalk, Conn., who is also an architect, said in a statement for the House Un-American Activities Committee:

"In 1620 my forebears came to New England dreaming of freedom. I am a good American. I obey the law of the land and act in the best interests of my country as I see it."

Passport "Not Valid"

"In 1952 I went to China to attend a peace conference—to see for myself what hope there was of peace in that quarter of the world. My passport was stamped 'not valid' for China. I ascertained that the law, nevertheless, did not forbid my going."

The committee is studying what it terms the use of American passports for Communist purposes.

Committee counsel Richard Arens read from what he said was a photographic copy of a resolution at the peace conference which accused the United States of using germ warfare and being the leader of a "war bloc".

Robison Contempt Action Set

Also today, the committee formally voted 7-0 to start contempt of Congress proceedings against Paul Robeson, Negro singer who refused to say yesterday whether he is a Communist. He also told committee members that "you are the bad Americans."

582,600,000 Chinese

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Red China's population in mid-1953 was estimated at 582,600,000, the Census Bureau saidt oday.

This was nearly one-fourth of the world population and about 3½ times the current estimated U.S. total of 168 million.

British Navy Is Rebuked After Blast Rocks Liner

SOUTHAMPTON, England, June 13 (AP)—The captain of the liner United States rebuked the British royal navy tonight for not warning of a loud blast that shook the American ship at sea today.

The 740 passengers were startled by the blast near a proving ground where the royal navy tests mines and depth charges. The only apparent damage was to their nerves, however.

The 53,000-ton blue ribbon ship of the Atlantic speed tests did not slow down and never was in danger.

But on arrival here soon after the blast, her master, Commodore John W. Anderson, told waterfront reporters:

"I think the British navy boys ought to give some prior notification or wait until a ship is further away before letting off these things" — the unidentified explosive.

Anderson said the explosion caused "quite a reverberation."

British Admiralty officials estimated the explosion was three miles from the ship.

"I wouldn't quarrel with that," said Anderson. British pilots on board, however, put the distance at about a mile.

Actress Mary Pickford was a passenger.

"There was a heavy thud," she said. "It was distinct all right."

Other officers aboard the ship inbound from New York estimated the explosion was between a mile and two miles away.

Nine Officers To Make Trip With Twining

Group To Travel In Military Transport, Not New-Model Jet

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Top technicians of the Air Force will be among the nine officers accompanying Gen. Nathan F. Twining to the Russian air show in Moscow on June 24.

Twining, the Air Force chief of staff, announced the list today. In selecting his deputy chiefs of staff for operations, development and materiel to make this trip, he underlined his intention of making it a working visit that will test Soviet willingess to show the Americans something more than the staged demonstrations and exhibits that will be seen by visitors from many lands at the show.

The announcement said that definite times for the departure and return of the Air Force group will be determined later and "will depend upon Soviet schedules of events for the party while in the Soviet Union."

Fighting Chiefs Excluded

The announced membership of the mission excludes the chiefs of the two major fighting commands of the Air Force, the Strategic and Tactical Air Commands.

It does include the deputy chief of staff for operations of the Air Force, Lt. Gen. Frank F. Everest. The Strategic Air Command will be represented by a deputy director of operations, Brig. Gen. William H. Blanchard.

Twining stressed the technical expectations of his journey to Russia by selecting for the trip Lt. Gen. Donald L. Putt, deputy chief of staff for development at headquarters; Lt. Gen. Thomas S. Power, commander of the Air Research and Development Command, and Lt. Gen. Clarence S. Irvine, deputy commander for materiel at headquarters.

Standard Airliner For Trip

Another top technician going along is Maj. Gen. Albert Boyd, deputy commander of the Research and Development Command.

The Air Force announcement also dissipated proposals heard at the Pentagon to the effect that the air chief should fly to Moscow in one of the newest planes available in this country, possibly a big jet bomber.

Twining said his group would fly in a standard, unarmed military version of a DC6 airliner, similar to many used in commercial transportation.

Greece Assails British Tactics

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., June 13 (AP)—Greece accused Britain today of using Nazi-like methods to prolong British rule over violence-ridden Cyprus.

The Greek government, in a memorandum to the U.N., also said Britain intends to use Cyprus as a springboard for the defense of British oil interests in the Middle East.

The memorandum was given to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold by the Greek permanent delegate, Ambassador Christian X. Palamas. The document explained in detail why Greece wants the Mediterranean Island's case put on the agenda of the 11th General Assembly convening Nov. 12.

Sir Pierson Dixon, British delegation head, issued a statement saying there is nothing new in the charges in the Greek memorandum. He said it is a further example of the "worldwide Greek campaign of defamatory propaganda against my country."

He added the internal affairs of Cyprus are not a matter for discussion in the U.N.

Red Cross "Offers" To Take Back August

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—The Defense Department announced tonight that the American Red Cross has "offered" to take back Irving I. August, who lost his job in March after the Army raised security questions about him.

The Pentagon said also that August, a veteran of World War II and Korea, will be given a hearing, if he wants one, under the industrial security regulations administered by the Defense Department.

Harry P. Cain, member of the Subversive Activities Control Board, told a Senate subcommittee yesterday that the Army's treatment of August was a sample of American "Fascism."

Adenauer was questioned on a variety of subjects, including whether he knew if Russia had developed a medium-range ballistic missile.

Adenauer, smiling blandly, noted that he recently had been in Moscow but he commented:

"The Russians didn't tell me anything about that, they don't give away any of their secrets."

But he said firmly that he nevertheless doesn't always believe the Russians when they say they have developed such modern weapons.

Combine Set Up To Boost Coal Exports

Key Mine And Rail Interests And UMW Form Partnership

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Key coal and railroad interests today announced an "unprecedented partnership" with a rich labor union to set up their own shipping firm and sell American coal all over the world.

Walter J. Tuohy, president of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, announced formation of a 50-million-dollar coal export corporation with Richard L. Bowditch, former president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, as its chairman.

Tuohy said the new firm, owned by some of the nation's largest coal producers, coal-carrying railroads and the United Mine Workers, wants to boost the present 42 million tons annual coal export market to 100 million tons.

Lewis, Kennedy On Board

John L. Lewis and Thomas Kennedy, president and vice president of the mine workers union, are members of the new concern's board of directors. Lewis attended a National Coal Assn. convention luncheon where Tuohy made his announcement.

Tuohy said there is growing demand for coal in Europe, Asia and South America, that this country has the coal reserves to fill those needs, and adequate railroad facilities to freight coal to ocean docks.

"The weak link in the picture is shipping," Tuohy said. "We just don't have enough ships. We are going to find them, lease them, buy them or build them ourselves and fill the demand for American coal."

Ocean Shipping Costs High

He cited figures showing that ocean transportation costs more than both mining coal and bringing it by rail to port. He said coal costs roughly $4 a ton at the mine, rail charges round about $5 to $7 a ton, but ocean shipping charges run about $11 a ton.

"The superior coals of the United States can be mined and delivered to tidewater piers, ready for shipment overseas, at much less than the cost of coal at the mines in Great Britain, Germany, France and other coal-producing countries," Tuohy said.

Humphrey OKs Debt Ceiling Cut

WASHINGTON, June 13 (INS)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D) Va., announced today that Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey has agreed to a three billion dollar reduction in the federal debt limit, effective July 1.

The chairman of the Senate Finance Committee said the debt ceiling is "an important control over federal expenditures."

Byrd pointed out that the present temporary debt limit is 281 billion dollars and that the reduction would take it down to 278 billions.

He added: "Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has concurred in this reduction.

"In view of the present huge unexpended balances in appropriated funds which, on the basis of the President's new budget requests, in the coming fiscal year starting July 1 would total $141,000,000,000, the public debt ceiling is an important control over federal expenditures.

"This is the first reduction that has been made in the debt ceiling for 10 years. I am hoping that next year a further reduction can be made and we'll work to that end. It is time that we start to pay on our huge federal debt."

Education Bill Sent Ike

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP) — Congress sent to President Eisenhower today legislation to provide education beyond high school for children of servicemen dead as a result of World War II or Korean service.

The House took the final legislative action by agreeing to Senate amendments.

Refugee Resists Reds

VIENNA, June 13 (AP)—A Soviet tourist requesting asylum rejected attempts today by the Russian Embassy to persuade him to return home.

Eight-Year Hiccup Siege Ends

Jack O'Leary, who hiccupped once a second for eight years, looks at a statue of Pope Pius X and holds a relic of the pontiff to which he attributes his "miraculous" cure several weeks ago. O'Leary, of Los Angeles, said the hiccupping stopped about a week after he was given the relic, a tiny piece of bone, by a Catholic chaplain who obtained it from a cardinal in Rome. (AP Photofax)

Cain Questions Need Of Loyalty Program

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Harry P. Cain told Congress today he believes there is "serious question whether we need a so-called loyalty program in this country."

Cain made this statement to a Senate Judiciary subcommittee on constitutional rights after saying President Eisenhower showed "deep concern and interest" in his proposals for revamping the federal loyalty-security program.

Continuing testimony he began yesterday, Cain said that among thousands of government workers listed as security risks over the years, it would be hard to count a dozen who actually were found to be disloyal.

The former Republican senator from Washington State declared that the security program has been marked by "Fascist" type abuses which make even application for a federal job "a terrifying and inhumane trap."

He submitted to the subcommittee a number of individual cases which he said pointed up injustices in the program. Chairman Hennings (D-Mo) promised a thorough inquiry into each case.

Cain also repeated his criticism of the attorney general's list of subversive organizations. To list organizations as bad "without those in authority bothering to define why the organizations are bad is to employ a weapon from the arsenal of the tyrant," he said.

He said he has serious doubts the list is needed "in a free society."

Cain, an Eisenhower-appointee to the Subversive Activities Control Board, long has been an outspoken critic of the loyalty-security program. He has indicated that for this reason he does not expect reappointment to the $15,000-a-year job when his term expires in August.

Eisenhower met with Cain at the White House last Thursday. Until then, Cain testified, Eisenhower apparently was unaware that spies and drunks are counted alike in the over-all tabulation of security risk firings.

Coast Guard Station Evacuated In Storm

NEW ORLEANS, June 13 (AP)—Coast Guard and Navy helicopters today rescued five men who were in a Coast Guard station threatened by high seas whipped up by the season's first tropical disturbance.

The station is located in the Southwest Pass at the mouth of the Mississippi River.

The rescued men said the danger to the building did not seem as serious as it appeared earlier, the Coast Guard said.

The dock near the station was washed away.

Coastguardmen at the station reported weather conditions serious in the Gulf of Mexico, with winds up to 45 miles an hour.

Child Eats Golf Ball But Doesn't Feel Under Par

BALTIMORE, June 13 (AP)—Many a golfer has threatened to "eat the golf ball" after missing an easy putt.

Daniel Lee Stuart, who's not old enough to play the game yet, did just that yesterday. He was treated at Union Memorial Hospital yesterday after he ate part of the filling from a golf ball he found on the front lawn of his home.

Doctors said the 18-month-old boy apparently suffered no ill effects. Didn't feel under par, you might say.

"Heat Strike" Idles Chrysler Workers

DETROIT, June 13 (AP)—Nearly 16,000 Chrysler Corp. workers were idled today by a "heat strike" and another walkout protesting firing of two union stewards.

Some 6,000 were sent home from the Chrysler Kercheval and Jefferson plants when 13 painters walked off their jobs because of 92-degree heat.

Another 9,960 were idled at the Plymouth and Mack body plants when 1,100 trim department workers walked out protesting discharge of two United Auto Workers stewards last week.

Blast Cause Unknown

CINCINNATI, June 13 (AP)—The exact cause of the explosion at an apartment building in the Avondale section of Cincinnati last night, still was undetermined today, investigators reported. The blast killed one person and injured 18.

Builder Called Traitor For Trip To China In 1952

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Henry Willcox, president of a Long Island construction company, testified today he took part in a 1952 "peace" conference in Red China.

Rep. Kearney (R-NY) promptly denounced him publicly as a traitor to America.

Willcox, a 66-year-old resident of South Norwalk, Conn., who is also an architect, said in a statement for the House Un-American Activities Committee:

"In 1620 my forebears came to New England dreaming of freedom. I am a good American. I obey the law of the land and act in the best interests of my country as I see it.

Passport "Not Valid"

"In 1952 I went to China to attend a peace conference—to see for myself what hope there was of peace in that quarter of the world. My passport was stamped 'not valid' for China. I ascertained that the law, nevertheless, did not forbid my going."

The committee is studying what it terms the use of American passports for Communist purposes.

Committee counsel Richard Arens read from what he said was a photographic copy of a resolution at the peace conference which accused the United States of using germ warfare and being the leader of a "war bloc".

Robison Contempt Action Set

Also today, the committee formally voted 7-0 to start contempt of Congress proceedings against Paul Robeson, Negro singer who refused to say yesterday whether he is a Communist. He also told committee members that "you are the bad Americans."

582,600,000 Chinese

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Red China's population in mid-1953 was estimated at 582,600,000, the Census Bureau saidt oday.

British Navy Is Rebuked After Blast Rocks Liner

SOUTHAMPTON, England, June 13 (AP)—The captain of the liner United States rebuked the British royal navy tonight for not warning of a loud blast that shook the American ship at sea today.

The 740 passengers were startled by the blast near a proving ground where the royal navy tests mines and depth charges. The only apparent damage was to their nerves, however.

The 53,000-ton blue ribbon ship of the Atlantic speed tests did not slow down and never was in danger.

But on arrival here soon after the blast, her master, Commodore John W. Anderson, told waterfront reporters:

"I think the British navy boys ought to give some prior notification or wait until a ship is further away before letting off these things" — the unidentified explosive.

Anderson said the explosion caused "quite a reverberation."

British Admiralty officials estimated the explosion was three miles from the ship.

"I wouldn't quarrel with that," said Anderson. British pilots on board, however, put the distance at about a mile.

Actress Mary Pickford was a passenger.

"There was a heavy thud," she said. "It was distinct all right."

Other officers aboard the ship inbound from New York estimated the explosion was between a mile and two miles away.

Group To Travel In Military Transport, Not New-Model Jet

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Top technicians of the Air Force will be among the nine officers accompanying Gen. Nathan F. Twining to the Russian air show in Moscow on June 24.

Twining, the Air Force chief of staff, announced the list today. In selecting his deputy chiefs of staff for operations, development and materiel to make this trip, he underlined his intention of making it a working visit that will test Soviet willingess to show the Americans something more than the staged demonstrations and exhibits that will be seen by visitors from many lands at the show.

The announcement said that definite times for the departure and return of the Air Force group will be determined later and "will depend upon Soviet schedules of events for the party while in the Soviet Union."

Fighting Chiefs Excluded

The announced membership of the mission excludes the chiefs of the two major fighting commands of the Air Force, the Strategic and Tactical Air Commands.

It does include the deputy chief of staff for operations of the Air Force, Lt. Gen. Frank F. Everest. The Strategic Air Command will be represented by a deputy director of operations, Brig. Gen. William H. Blanchard.

Twining stressed the technical expectations of his journey to Russia by selecting for the trip Lt. Gen. Donald L. Putt, deputy chief of staff for development at headquarters; Lt. Gen. Thomas S. Power, commander of the Air Research and Development Command, and Lt. Gen. Clarence S. Irvine, deputy commander for materiel at headquarters.

Standard Airliner For Trip

Another top technician going along is Maj. Gen. Albert Boyd, deputy commander of the Research and Development Command.

The Air Force announcement also dissipated proposals heard at the Pentagon to the effect that the air chief should fly to Moscow in one of the newest planes available in this country, possibly a big jet bomber.

Twining said his group would fly in a standard, unarmed military version of a DC6 airliner, similar to many used in commercial transportation.

Greece Assails British Tactics

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., June 13 (AP)—Greece accused Britain today of using Nazi-like methods to prolong British rule over violence-ridden Cyprus.

The Greek government, in a memorandum to the U.N., also said Britain intends to use Cyprus as a springboard for the defense of British oil interests in the Middle East.

The memorandum was given to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold by the Greek permanent delegate, Ambassador Christian X. Palamas. The document explained in detail why Greece wants the Mediterranean Island's case put on the agenda of the 11th General Assembly convening Nov. 12.

Sir Pierson Dixon, British delegation head, issued a statement saying there is nothing new in the charges in the Greek memorandum. He said it is a further example of the "worldwide Greek campaign of defamatory propaganda against my country."

He added the internal affairs of Cyprus are not a matter for discussion in the U.N.

Red Cross "Offers" To Take Back August

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—The Defense Department announced tonight that the American Red Cross has "offered" to take back Irving I. August, who lost his job in March after the Army raised security questions about him.

The Pentagon said also that August, a veteran of World War II and Korea, will be given a hearing, if he wants one, under the industrial security regulations administered by the Defense Department.

Harry P. Cain, member of the Subversive Activities Control Board, told a Senate subcommittee yesterday that the Army's treatment of August was a sample of American "Fascism."

Yugo Paper Assails Ex-Associate Of Tito

Djilas Blamed For U.S. Aid Cutoff Sentiment

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, June 13 (AP)—Borba blamed reactionary circles and former Yugoslav Vice President Milovan Djilast today for demands in some U. S. quarters that American aid to Yugoslavia be ended.

The Yugoslav Communist newspaper declared in a three-column, front page story "reactionary circles in the world" prefer the Stalin era cold war to "the significant contribution of the present Soviet leadership to the lessening of world tension."

It called Djilas, once one of President Tito's closed associates, a hireling of "certain reactionary American circles" and said he organized a campaign against the Tito government. It implied the result was demands in Washington that U.S. aid to Tito's government be cut off because of Tito's friendly statements to the Russians during his current visit to the Soviet Union.

Djilas, Borba said, wrote an anti-Tito article for Time magazine and articles for other American and French publications containing "slanders and dirty allegations toward prominent leaders and democratic forces which at present are fighting for world peace and friendly relations among peoples."

It said Djilas' anti-Tito campaign had been timed deliberately to coincide with the Yugoslav President's tour of the Soviet Union.

Djilas was removed from office and expelled from the party in January 1954 on a charge of deviating from the party line. He was convicted a year later of making statements to foreign correspondents in Belgrade which slandered the government. He was given an 18-months suspended sentence.

Continuing to live in Yugoslavia, he has told newsmen the government prevents him from finding employment. Borba said Djilas refused jobs offered him "and has preferred to live as a parasite."

The Time magazine story to which Borba referred presumably was one in its June 4 issue, a report by correspondent James Bell of an interview with Djilas. But articles written by Djilas have appeared in other U.S. publications. In one, he declared Soviet Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev is a demagogue and that Stalin was not.

Cave-In That Killed Six Children Probed

NEW YORK, June 13 (INS)—Angry New York City and state officials pressed a series of investigations today in an all-out effort to pin responsibility for the tragic Brooklyn cave-in that killed six children.

Mayor Robert Wagner ordered five municipal departments to probe the incident, in which the youngsters were buried alive by an avalanche of earth while playing in an excavation in Brooklyn's Williamsburg neighborhood, last night.

Amid the probes, the shocked Williamsburg community called for safety measures to prevent repetition of the disaster. Neighbors and school organizations began collecting funds to help pay funeral expenses of the bereaved families.

The key question appeared to be whether any negligence was involved as to guarding the block-square excavation where the children were killed while digging a tunnel.

Fight Due Soon In Senate Over Social Security

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—The Social Security bill now awaiting Senate floor action may provoke one of the liveliest debates of the 1956 session because of changes made in it by the Senate Finance Committee.

The debate tentatively is scheduled to start tomorrow or Friday, although it already has been postponed several times.

It is one of the major items of legislative business this year, and is considered certain to be passed in some form before final adjournment.

As passed by the House last year, the bill carried two major new benefits. It would lower the retirement age for all women from 65 to 62, and establish a new program of disability benefits for persons totally disabled at age 50 or higher.

In addition, it would raise the tax ½ per cent each on the employer and employe to finance the new provisions.

But the Eisenhower administration opposed both benefits, largely because of the cost, and the Senate Finance Committee altered the bill in line with the administration views.

It knocked out the disability program entirely, and made the 62 retirement age available only to widows.

A fight has been predicted on the Senate floor to restore both House provisions in full.

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—The Senate Commerce Committee today approved a bill authorizing construction of the first nuclear-powered merchant ship in the world. The cost is estimated at 37 million dollars.

Paratrooper Who Grabbed Falling Buddy Honored

FT. BRAGG, N. C., June 13 (AP)—An 82nd Airborne Division paratrooper grabbed a falling buddy 1,000 feet aloft and brought him down safely. He has been recommended for the Soldier's Medal, the nation's highest noncombat award.

Pfc. Wilbur Lewis, 24, of Toledo, Ohio, was credited with saving the life of Pfc. Charles P. Harper, 20, of Eau Claire, Wis., in a mass jump June 6. The demonstration was staged for Gen. Ne Win, chief of staff of Burmese armed forces, on a Ft. Bragg visit.

Lewis and Harper, both members of Co. H, 325 Airborne Infantry Regiment, jumped from the same plane. Lewis snatched at Harper as the latter, whose chute failed to open, slid down a suspension line on Lewis's parachute. The two men clung together and rode the single chute down.

PRR 'Tubular Train' Completes Test Run

NEWARK, N. J., June 13 (AP)—The newest entry in the field of lightweight trains, the Pennsylvania Railroad's million - dollar "tubular train," completed its first public demonstration run today.

Named the "Keystone," the gleaming stainless steel train ran from Philadelphia to Newark and returned with about 200 passengers representing the press, radio and television as well as high-ranking officials of the Pennsylvania and of the Budd Co., makers of the train.

The cars, based on the "split level" conception of modern housing, are elevated at each end. The tubular design requires no heavy steel underframe as in ordinary cars because of the great strength of the steel tube.

Blaze Destroys WVU Building

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., June 13 (AP)—Workmen tore down what remained of the front wall of West Virginia University's Mechanical Hall after an early morning fire destroyed the 54-year-old building. University officials estimated damage at $1,470,000.

A WVU spokesman said officials didn't know what started the fire. The first alarm was sounded about 2:15 a.m. and within several hours the roof and floor gave way.

The building housed the university's mechanical, electrical and aeronautical departments, equipped with huge and expensive laboratory devices.

Fire Chief Harry Peckenbaugh said the pile might be smoldering for another week.

Three Morgantown fire companies, and departments from Star City, Westover and Granville, W. Va., and Mount Morris, Pa., joined in the fight.

The Legislature already had approved plans to replace Mechanical Hall and the WVU Board of Governors on June 2 passed a resolution for the sale of bonds for new agricultural and engineering buildings.

Pirogov Challenges Soviet To Produce Redefector

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Peter Pirogov, a former Soviet airman who defected in 1949, challenged the Russians today to produce a fellow pilot who fled to the West with him but later returned to Russia.

Pirogov, who now lives in nearby Alexandria, Va., said he had been told by a Soviet Embassy official last fall that the other flier, Anatole Borzov, was still alive.

But Pirogov testified at a Senate Internal Security subcommittee he didn't believe the report.

The subcommittee placed in its record an excerpt from a book by Vladimir Petrov, a former Soviet agent, saying he had been told in 1950 that Borzov was shot after returning to Russia.

The subcommittee, inquiring into the redefection campaign of Russia and her satellites, also was told by an unidentified Russian emigre that two members of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations recently approached him and tried to induce him to return to Russia.

The names of the two members of the Soviet U. N. delegation were not disclosed publicly, but the subcommittee said the FBI had been advised of their identity.

Pirogov and Borzov came down in their plane in the American zone of Austria in 1949. They both went to the Americans, while another member of the crew returned to Russia.

At today's subcommittee hearing Pirogov testified that Borzov had been persuaded by Soviet Embassy officials to return to the Soviet Union in August, 1949, and that Borzov had tried to talk him into going back too.

Egypt Flag Replaces Union Jack At Suez

PORT SAID, June 13 (INS)—Egypt's white and green flag replaced the Union Jack today over the Port Said naval station as the last British soldier left the Suez Canal Zone five days ahead of schedule.

The lowering of the Union Jack marked the end of Britain's 74-year-old occupation of the strategic waterway area.

New Movie Censor Law Gets First Test

ANNAPOLIS, June 13 (AP)—The producer and distributor of the controversal movie, "The Man with the Golden Arm," took Maryland's revamped movie censorship law into the Court of Appeals today for its first legal test.

United Artists Corp. and Carlyle Productions Inc., contended the State Board of Censors should not have deleted a scene from the movie merely because it showed the taking of narcotics.

Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert told the State's high tribunal that the entire movie probably should have been banned, but that only the two-minute segment showing how narcotics are prepared and injected could be deleted under the 1955 act of the Legislature.

Sybert said there is no doubt the scene deleted from the movie came under the new law.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., June 13 (AP)—Workmen tore down what remained of the front wall of West Virginia University's Mechanical Hall after an early morning fire destroyed the 54-year-old building. University officials estimated damage at $1,470,000.

A WVU spokesman said officials didn't know what started the fire. The first alarm was sounded about 2:15 a.m. and within several hours the roof and floor gave way.

The building housed the university's mechanical, electrical and aerpnautical departments, equipped with huge and expensive laboratory devices.

Fire Chief Harry Peckenbaugh said the pile might be smoldering for another week.

Three Morgantown fire companies, and departments from Star City, Westover and Granville, W. Va., and Mount Morris, Pa., joined in the fight.

The Legislature already had approved plans to replace Mechanical Hall and the WVU Board of Governors on June 2 passed a resolution for the sale of bonds for new agricultural and engineering buildings.

Pirogov Challenges Soviet To Produce Redefector

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Peter Pirogov, a former Soviet airman who defected in 1949, challenged the Russians today to produce a fellow pilot who fled to the West with him but later returned to Russia.

Pirogov, who now lives in nearby Alexandria, Va., said he had been told by a Soviet Embassy official last fall that the other flier, Anatole Borzov, was still alive.

But Pirogov testified at a Senate Internal Security subcommittee he didn't believe the report.

The subcommittee placed in its record an excerpt from a book by Vladimir Petrov, a former Soviet agent, saying he had been told in 1950 that Borzov was shot after returning to Russia.

The subcommittee, inquiring into the redefection campaign of Russia and her satellites, also was told by an unidentified Russian emigre that two members of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations recently approached him and tried to induce him to return to Russia.

The names of the two members of the Soviet U. N. delegation were not disclosed publicly, but the subcommittee said the FBI had been advised of their identity.

Pirogov and Borzov came down in their plane in the American zone of Austria in 1949. They both went to the Americans, while another member of the crew returned to Russia.

At today's subcommittee hearing Pirogov testified that Borzov had been persuaded by Soviet Embassy officials to return to the Soviet Union in August, 1949, and that Borzov had tried to talk him into going back too.

Egypt Flag Replaces Union Jack At Suez

PORT SAID, June 13 (INS)—Egypt's white and green flag replaced the Union Jack today over the Port Said naval station as the last British soldier left the Suez Canal Zone five days ahead of schedule.

The lowering of the Union Jack marked the end of Britain's 74-year-old occupation of the strategic waterway area.

New Movie Censor Law Gets First Test

ANNAPOLIS, June 13 (AP)—The producer and distributor of the controversal movie, "The Man with the Golden Arm," took Maryland's revamped movie censorship law into the Court of Appeals today for its first legal test.

United Artists Corp. and Carlyle Productions Inc., contended the State Board of Censors should not have deleted a scene from the movie merely because it showed the taking of narcotics.

Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert told the State's high tribunal that the entire movie probably should have been banned, but that only the two-minute segment showing how narcotics are prepared and injected could be deleted under the 1955 act of the Legislature.

Sybert said there is no doubt the scene deleted from the movie came under the new law.

Defrosts without removing foods EVER!

Only CROSLEY gives you hi-speed electric automatic defrost in both freezer & refrigerator

Ask These 6 . . . questions before you buy your new refrigerator:

1. Does an Ice Scraper come in the freezer chest? If one does . . . it's not truly automatic defrost! Don't be fooled—true automatic defrost needs no help from you!

2. Can I nudge the refrigerator door open when my arms are loaded with food
If you can't, you're getting an old-fashioned pull-handle type door latch!

3. Can I store a turkey in the refrigerator without taking out shelves?
Check to see that there are at least 16 inches between shelves. Anything less is inadequate for sizeable food storage!

4. Do the shelves revolve or pull out?
For your sake they should pull out . . . and this means they should definitely be square . . . not round. Put a round shelf on top of a square one, and you'll see that the round shelf can deprive you of up to 20% food storage space!

5. Can I get quart soda bottles and ½ gallon milk bottles in the door?
If you can't, the door is too shallow . . . and your bottles will use up much-needed shelf space inside, your refrigerator!

6. Does the refrigerator defrost by Hi-Speed Electricity or does it push hot gas through the tubing coils?
The hot gas way is the slow way . . . may permit frozen foods to thaw . . . then re-freeze! Color and flavor fade . . . vitamins are lost. Make sure your new refrigerator has Hi-Speed Electric Fully Automatic Defrost!

Judge Quashes Gunplay Charge Against Singer

NEW YORK, June 13 (AP)—The state's gunplay case against singer Billy Daniels collapsed after a judge said the handling of a witness smacked of police state persecution.

Dismissal of the charges by General Sessions Judge Jacob Gould Schurman cleared the "Old Black Magic" man of assault against another man in a Harlem bottle club last Jan. 31.

The case was as mixed up in its climax as it was at its outset—when police tried to keep quiet the shooting of James R. Jackson, a boxing trainer. He was only slightly wounded.

Schurman, of late a bitter critic of the tactics of the district attorney's office, said bluntly the state had no evidence to bring into court against the Negro night club star.

He was especially vehement against the detention under protective custody of the state's star witness against Daniels, Ramona Davis, sister of another Negro singing star, Sammy Davis Jr.

The court said Miss Davis was not held by virtue of any court order and continued:

"Her status is stated to be that of one in protective custody. But there is no such status in American law, although it was well known to the dictatorship of Europe and may well exist today in nations behind the Iron Curtain."

Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan said Schurman's dismissal of the charges will be appealed.

Some hours after the court session, he issued a brief statement in which he said:

"Judge Schurman's opinion is based upon erroneous legal propositions with which we strongly differ and includes factual inaccuracies which present a distorted picture. In our appeal to the appellate division, our brief will set forth these contentions in detail."

Daniels was not present for the climax. Free in $2,500 bond, he currently is appearing in London.

Jackson, 33, was shot in the shoulder in an after-hours drinking brawl in the Harlem club. He refused to say who shot him.

Surpluses-For-Reds Measure Advances

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—The House Agriculture Committee yesterday approved, with limitations, the administration's request for authority to dispose of surplus farm commodities to Communist satellite nations.

It recommended House passage of a bill to boost from 1½ billion to three billion dollars the total amount of surpluses which may be sold abroad for foreign currencies.

The committee recommended that surpluses be bartered to satellite nations — but not to Russia, Red China or North Korea. It retained existing prohibitions against sales to satellites for their own currencies.

Non-Communist nations may continue to purchase American farm surpluses for local currencies as provided in existing law.

The State Department had asked the committee to drop present barriers to disposal or surpluses to satellites as an example of "the bontiful fruits of a society of freedom."

Three special awards and two honorable mentions were given at the first annual banquet of the Flintstone Alumni Association, held Saturday evening at the Flintstone school. The third award, to the graduate with the largest family, was given to Mrs. Evelyn Trail Heavner, with seven children.

Federation History Is Given Club

A history of the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs was presented to the Oakland Civic Club, by Mrs. E. Irving Baumgartner, president of the First District, MFWC. The book will be placed in the library at Oakland in memory of Miss Alma Preinkert.

Installation of officers was conducted by Mrs. Baumgartner and yearly reports were given, prior to the summer recess.

A resume of activities on the year's program, "Knowing Your Community," was given by Mrs. Grant. Club projects included providing two wheel chairs for the hospital, the blood bank program, sponsoring home nursing classes, and supporting the Girl Scouts.

The "20th Annual," a yearbook, is off the press, Mrs. Martin Sharp reports, and a few additional copies are available for those who have not already reserved one.

Among the gifts to be awarded will be one to the person coming the greatest distance; and the one with the most children. Marvin Kaplon is chairman of the Gifts committee.

Committee members serving with Dr. Butler are Mrs. Paul Stair, Hugh D. Shires, Mrs. Willard Adams, Mrs. William Seibert, Mrs. F. H. Knippenberg, Mr. Morgan, Mr. Kaplon and Mrs. Sharp.

Circle Committees Appointed

Joan Minke presided at the business session of the Jean Rowland Circle of Melvin Methodist Church and appointed her committees for the year. They include Betty Thomas, Sunshine; Helen McGuire, Betty Adams, Program; Norma Manges, Foreign and Home Mission; Mary Jane Parks, Ruby Robey, Devotions; Frances Adams, Publicity.

The group voted to make a contribution to the Bible School fund. Winnie Brode and Helen McGuire volunteered to clean the church for the month of June.

Devotions for the evening included group singing of "Take My Life and Let It Be," and reading of Scripture by Madeline Hampson. Prayer was given by Mrs. Eleanor DelaGrange. Mrs. Goldie Streett, Mrs. Edith Riggleman and Miss Dorothy Streett presented a skit, "Beautiful Hands." Norma Manges sang "Mother," and Helen Walters recited a poem, "The Hands of Christ." The devotional portion of the program concluded with the group singing, "More Love to Thee, O Christ."

Following the business meeting a flower sale was held. Hostesses for the evening were Winnie Brode, Helen McGuire and Violet Wentling.

Next month the group will have a wiener and corn roast at Smouse Beach.

Mrs. Anna M. Jenkins, 808 Greene Street, is reported doing "very well" at Sacred Heart Hospital, where she is a patient.

On The Line
by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, June 13 (INS) — America's newest sport is sky diving. With two unopened chutes strapped fore and aft and an altimeter and stopwatch attached to his chest, the sky diver leaps out of the plane, stretches his arms like a soaring bird, and subtly maneuvers as he gracefully falls. At a modest height above the earth, and death, he opens a chute and flutters down to the spot which amounts to a bullseye in this gripping new combination of sailing, pinpoint bombing, and fallen arches.

We've just had a talk with one of the nation's top sky divers. Paris-born, Princeton-trained, Korean vet Jacques Andre Istel of Bedford Village, N. Y. He is as lean, strong and sharp-eyed as the circle he emulates.

But troubled:

The 8-man U.S. sky diving team of which Jacques is a member is entered in the world's championship competition in Moscow next month. It has raised enough money to get to France, where it will undergo instructions under some of the world's best fliers. But it has no funds to continue on to Moscow or return.

We'll go the distance even if we have to hock our lives," Jacques told us with the air of the dedicated man. "We're determined not only to show our faces against the Russians and the 12 other nations but to do well. The huge crowds which will watch the sport should know that America isn't backward about anything, even if we have only about 500 people who chute for fun as opposed to Russia's 800,000."

The team needs $12,000, none of it to go for the personal gain of any member. Contributions are tax-free when made out to the National Aeronautical Assn. of Washington, D. C.

The American sky diving team is an amateur organization. It may be the only 110 percent pure one. It is made up of the like of a carpenter, Lew Sanborn, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.; a sign painter, Bob Fair, of Athens, Tenn.; an auto mechanic, Floyd Hobby, of Elyria, O.; an upholsterer, Lyle Hoffman, of Seattle; a sewing machine repairman, George Bosworth, of Buffalo and a steeplejack from Cleveland named George Stone. Their ages range from 23 to 42. Hobby won the parachuting test at the National Air Races in 1952. Fair in 1953. They've all undergone Spartan training at Trenton-Robbinsville (N.J.) airport for this first all-out assault on the entrenched sky diving nations.

"Americans don't understand much about what to do," Jacques told us. "The U.S. pioneered in parachuting but the game got a bad name here—a kind of country fair name. As a result, we were unprepared when we needed lots of paratroops in the war, troops that could be dropped from low levels and land where they were supposed to land. We glamorized paratrooping as rough and tough, which it was, but that in turn discouraged people from going in for it.

"Sky diving is safer than any other sport," Jacques said earnestly. "It's infinitely safer than skiing, let's say. We don't jump if the wind isn't right, and naturally we don't jump with a heavy military pack on our back. Our chutes are packed to open slowly, which cuts out that particular jolt. We land as if we had jumped off a five foot table.

At Moscow the Americans will be called up to do such things as figure eights in the air, using only their hands as airfoils.

A soarer who flips over on his back while falling is disqualified. One who tilts unduly is penalized. He falls generally at about 125 mph, but, like a child in a dream, there is no sensation of dropping. The longest free falls in the Moscow competition will be of 30-second duration (two figure eights!) after which the flier must "...ch" his then opened chute in such a way as to land on the bullseye.

"The Russians have been training two years for this show," Jacques said with dark intensity. "We, on the other hand, have lived on hamburgers and pop."

School Principal Commends Work

Miss Lula M. Blonskey, principal of Pennsylvania Avenue School, has sent a letter to Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn commending the work of the Cumberland Policewomen.

Miss Blonskey congratulated the Police Department for making it possible to protect the children during the school year. She added: "It certainly is a step forward in alerting the motorists to the importance of safety, and gave the school much satisfaction and pride to know that Pennsylvania Avenue had the services of one of the policewomen, Mrs. Mildred Twigg."

Miss Blonskey said Mrs. Twigg performed her duties at the corner of Pennsylvania Avenue and Second Street in a most commendable manner, and that the school is grateful for the Police Department making it possible to help relieve the traffic problem at this busy intersection.

Local Student Recent U. Of M. Graduate

Leslie Millenson, daughter of Mrs. A. J. Feigus, Luteman Highway, and the late Lester Millenson, received her A. B. degree at the University of Maryland's commencement exercises last Saturday. Her major was speech and she was active in radio and television circles at College Park.

Miss Millenson, a 1952 graduate of Allegany High where she was president of the United Nations Club, was a member of the Phi Sigma Sigma sorority and other organizations at Maryland.

Local Student Among Shepherd Graduates

Irvin S. Manges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cobern E. Manges, 314 Arch Street, was graduated June 4 from Shepherd College.

A graduate of Fort Hill High School, he was presented a bachelor of science degree and a bachelor of arts degree in education.

He is married to the former Miss Betty Rider, city.

Legislator May Win Fame But He Still Must Do Chores For Home Folks

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—The troubles of Sen. Alexander Wiley point up the difficulties that face many a legislator.

They stay around for years, laboriously working their way up the seniority list until they head a prominent committee, only to find some of the folks back home may be unimpressed by all this eminence.

Wiley is a former chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, one of the top jobs in Congress. He will be again if (A) he can get re-elected, and (B) the Republicans can win control of the Senate.

But the Wisconsin Republican Convention has rejected Wiley, and thrown its support to Rep. Glenn Davis. Wiley will make the race anyway. "We'll let the people decide this at the primaries," he said.

And as he tries to influence the voters to see things his way, he may reflect occasionally on how curious, but interesting, politics can be.

For the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee is a good spot to keep his name in print.

The President has the power to conduct international affairs, the Constitution says, "by and with the advice and consent of the Senate." So the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee does quite a bit of padding back and forth between the Capitol and the White House.

And he is quoted, copiously, on what he thinks of any development almost anywhere in the world.

Yet the last three men who have held the job haven't found it all peaches and cream.

Wiley is going ahead, despite the opposition. But in 1952 Tom Connally of Texas and this spring Walter George of Georgia decided not to stand for re-election.

And though politics is too complex to say this was the only reason, formidable opposition back home certainly had something to do with both decisions.

While George was still in the race, a fellow in his office was saying:

"Once you amount to something in Washington the folks back home get the idea you're no longer interested in them. I don't know why, but it's true.

"Only yesterday the senator got a letter from a lady back home. Down through the years he had helped her a lot, and this letter was to thank him for two recent favors. Well, after thanking the senator, she said:

"'By the way, folks down here say you're too biggety to pay any attention to our personal problems any more. Is this true?'"

Which explains why a congressman tries so hard to assure his constituents he's eager to run errands for them.

If he doesn't help poor Uncle Willie with his pension problems, who cares how he stands on aid to Tito?

Suez Canal Will Be Deepened, Widened

PARIS, June 13 (AP)—The internationally owned Suez Canal Co. today earmarked $8,571,420 more to deepen and widen the waterway all the way from Suez to Port Said.

This brought to $18,571,420 funds allocated for modernizing the canal to meet the needs of the increasing traffic.

The annual meetings of the company's board of directors and shareholders are held in Paris.

Company President Francois Charles-Roux told the shareholders that traffic through the canal increased 11 per cent last year. He said that 107,508,000 tons of merchandise moved over the waterway in 1955.

USAF Bomber Plans Revealed

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—The Senate Air Force subcommittee yesterday made public Air Force plans to complete the heavy bomber changeover from outmoded B36s gently within a year.

to fast, high-flying B52 jets apparently.

At the same time the committee released an Air Force cost estimate on the proposal of the Strategic Air Command for special hangars and special bases for maintaining a hydrogen-bomber force on constant alert. The Air Force said this would boost the cost of the aviation building program by more than half a billion dollars.

The committee published carefully censored testimony by Maj. Gen. Lee B. Washbourne, assistant chief of staff for Air Force installations. The committee is headed by Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), a former secretary of the air force.

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass) asked how many bases the Air Force would need immediately for converting to B52 bombers, and whether the bombers would be available for them.

Washbourne said the converting of bases to B52s has already started, and added that it would continue "at the rate of roughly one a month until we get the conversion complete."

The Air Force has not disclosed how many B52 bases it will operate. However, the 137-wing program scheduled for completion by July 1 next year provides for 11 heavy bomber wings.

Brought Home Dough

TORONTO, June 13 (AP) — Paul Binneau, a machine operator, went shopping and brought home $18,000.

A bundle of $11,000 in cash and $7,000 in checks apparently was mislaid in his grocery box by a clerk at Gordon Weinberg's store who reached into an open safe instead of onto an adjoining shelf for a package.

Japan Plans "Big Eye"

TOKYO, June 13 (AP) — The Tokyo Astronomical Observatory will install a 74-inch telescope, the biggest in Asia, on Mt. Chikurinji in 1959, the Education Ministry reports. It will cost $463,888.

Visitor To Belgrade

BELGRADE, June 13 (AP) — Japan's Labor Minister Tadao Kuraushi is due here Friday for a three-day visit. He has been attending the annual conference of the International Labor Organization in Geneva.

Railway Seeks Discontinuance Of Two Trains

BALTIMORE, June 13 (AP) — The Western Maryland Railway today presented 51 typewritten pages of testimony and 43 exhibits at a hearing aimed at getting Public Service Commission approval to discontinue two daily passenger trains between Hagerstown and Baltimore.

Five protestants also testified before the hearing was recessed until June 18, when the PSC is expected to take the case under advisement.

Three company officials gave detailed testimony, backed up by charts, graphs and tables to show why the remnants of its passenger service should be eliminated.

Under cross-examination by lawyers, the officials said they had spent "not one penny" to advertise the passenger service in the year and a half.

C. B. Brenton, assistant to the director of personnel for the railroad, testified that on an average trip there were only 8.7 passengers riding each of the four trains —two each way—the full distance between Baltimore and Hagerstown.

"In three months of the year 1955," Brenton said, "the passenger miles per train mile fell below the crew miles per train mile, namely January, October and November. This simply means that the four-man crew, in effect, outnumbered the passengers.

E. P. Holland, comptroller of the railway, had testified earlier that the Western Maryland had suffered an "out-of-pocket" loss of $160,000 on the service in 1955 and had lost almost $450,000 since June 1953, when the PSC authorized discontinuance of passenger service west of Hagerstown and set up the present Hagerstown-Baltimore schedule.

Bernard M. Savage, representing the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, one of the protesting group, read to the commission figures showing the railroad had gross revenues in May of $4,793,000, largest gross figure for any May in the railroad's 100-year history. Net income for the first five months of 1955, he said, totaled $3,299,000, equal to $4.05 a common share.

Holland testified under cross-examination that the deficit of on the Hagerstown-Baltimore passenger service represented only one half of one per cent of the railroad's total business, but he added it was a deficit the railroad didn't feel it could continue to stand.

A. Gordon Boone, counsel for several hundred protestants in the Western Maryland towns served by the railroad, said the railroad, as a common carrier, "cannot have all of its operations profitable."

Brenton testified the railroad would need 2,200 additional passengers making the run from Hagerstown to Baltimore, or 2,600 additional passengers on the Westminster-Baltimore run, to break even on the service.

Brenton said, under questioning, he didn't believe advertising would increase use of the trains because "I don't think the potential is there."

Brenton also said that nearly half of the passengers using thees trains traveled only between Baltimore and stations west of Sudbrook, which is inside the Baltimore City limits, and that only 3 of every 4 passengers traveled to or from Glyndon and stations east thereof. Glyndon is about 20 miles northwest of Baltimore near Reisterstown.

Ex-Sen. Tydings Enters Hospital

BALTIMORE, June 13 (AP)—Former Sen. Millard E. Tydings has entered Johns Hopkins hospital for treatment of a stubborn skin infection in the vicinity of his eye.

A hospital spokesman said emphatically that Tydings' condition is not serious. He said doctors had ordered the former senator, now the Democratic nominee for re-election to his old post, to the hospital in order to expedite treatment of the infected area.

Butler Would Bring Rape Cases Under U.S. Lindbergh Law

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Sen. Butler (R-Md) today said he will introduce a bill to bring interstate rape cases under the Federal Lindbergh Kidnap Law.

Butler pointed to nine cases of rape by District of Columbia men perpetrated in Prince Georges County.

He said "these heinous crimes" should be prosecuted in Federal courts where interstate boundaries are crossed.

"I sincerely hope that when such cases come before our county judges they will mete out penalties that will discourage big time and little time criminals from making Maryland the scene of their depradations," said Butler.

Big Drop In Apple Crop Is Forecast

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 13 (AP)—Apple growers from throughout the nation have estimated the 1956 crop at almost 85 million bushels—a drop of more than 20 million bushels from last year.

Some 200 growers from 35 states made what they called their "guesstimate" at the annual meeting of the National Apple Institute.

Student's Trial Is Transferred

BALTIMORE, June 13 (AP)—The second murder trial of Gregory M. Delli-Pizzi, 25-year-old University of Maryland medical student, has been transferred from Baltimore to Anne Arundel County.

A mistrial was declared about three weeks ago when a jury failed to agree on a verdict.

Delli-Pizzi is accused of the murder of Richard Marlowe Wick, 52, Allentown, Pa. metallurgist, who died Feb. 18 after a hotel lobby fight.

The young student claimed at his first trial that Wick offended a 27-year-old dancer, Charlotte Holland, who has since become Mrs. Delli-Pizzi.

It was testified a dispute over the incident preceded the fatal fight. Judge Joseph L. Carter granted today motions by Delli-Pizzi's lawyers that the trial site be moved.

Officials said they would try to have the case assigned for trial within the next few weeks.

Bill Boosts Retired Railroaders' Pensions

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—A 15 per cent increase in payments to retired railroaders and their dependents under the Railroad Retirement Act was recommended yesterday by the House Interstate Committee.

A bill approved by the committee also would boost by one percentage point the contributions of employers and employes into the fund from which the benefits are paid. The present contribution is 6¼ per cent from both employe and employer on the first $350 of monthly pay.

Warden Probes Deaths Of Trout

HAGERSTOWN, June 13 (AP) — Game Warden Stanley Alexander is investigating the deaths of trout in Marsh Run near here. Alexander said numbers of dead fish have been found.

He said that on previous occasions fish deaths were traced to the dumping of fruit spray into the stream but it has not yet been determined if pollution is responsible for the present condition.

Adventists Discuss Juvenile Delinquency

BALTIMORE, June 13 (AP) — The church's role in combatting juvenile delinquency received the attention today of delegates at the annual summer Bible Conference of Maryland-Delaware Seventh-day Adventists at Catonsville.

William J. Harris of Washington, D. C., an associate secretary of his church's Sabbath school division, told a child guidance meeting that more than 36 million of the 53 million children and youths under 25 in the United States have had no religious instruction.

"The churches of America," he said, "face a tremendous challenge, in bringing Christ and the 'Bread of Life' to millions of youth now outside the influence of any Sabbath school, church, or Sunday school.

"Lay well the religious foundations in the child's early life and you build character, strong citizens and a strong America."

Robert A. Tyson, secretary of the youth department of the Chesapeake Conference, is conducting a daily workshop for youth leaders on how to make their programs more interesting to juveniles.

Probe Of Man's Slaying Pushed

BALTIMORE, June 13 (AP)—Police said today blood found in a stolen and abandoned automobile does not match that of Sydney Lee Cromwell, 42-year-old city employee, found bludgeoned to death in Gwynn's Falls Park Monday.

Captain of Detectives George H. Mintiens said there was no clue as to where the blood in the car might have come from. Originally, police thought the car might have been linked to Cromwell's death.

A 25-year-old acquaintance of Cromwell was still being questioned.

Cromwell's body was found by Miss Ora Burton, 19-year-old Oklahoma girl who was in the city as a magazine solicitor. She first said she made the discovery when chased into the woods by a masher.

Police said she later told them she fabricated the story because she did not want her employer to know she was taking a rest in the woods in mid-day.

Cromwell died when blood from a crushing blow to the jaw filled his lungs and caused suffocation.

Cromwell's wallet was missing, and police said robbery may have been the motive. He was a senior clerk in the city Bureau of Accounts and Disbursements.

Seaton Urged To Act

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) today called upon the new secretary of the interior, Fred A. Seaton, to cancel oil and gas leases in wildlife refuges.

Neuberger said in a Senate speech the former secretary, Douglas McKay, "allowed nearly six times as many oil leases within our refuges during a two year period as were permitted by previous interior secretaries during 33 years."

Bill Boosts Retired Railroaders' Pensions

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—A 15 per cent increase in payments to retired railroaders and their dependents under the Railroad Retirement Act was recommended yesterday by the House Interstate Committee.

A bill approved by the committee also would boost by one percentage point the contributions of employers and employes into the fund from which the benefits are paid. The present contribution is 6¼ per cent from both employe and employer on the first $350 of monthly pay.

Warden Probes Deaths Of Trout

HAGERSTOWN, June 13 (AP) — Game Warden Stanley Alexander is investigating the deaths of trout in Marsh Run near here. Alexander said numbers of dead fish have been found.

He said that on previous occasions fish deaths were traced to the dumping of fruit spray into the stream but it has not yet been determined if pollution is responsible for the present condition.

Adventists Discuss Juvenile Delinquency

BALTIMORE, June 13 (AP) — The church's role in combatting juvenile delinquency received the attention today of delegates at the annual summer Bible Conference of Maryland-Delaware Seventh-day Adventists at Catonsville.

William J. Harris of Washington, D. C., an associate secretary of his church's Sabbath school division, told a child guidance meeting that more than 36 million of the 53 million children and youths under 25 in the United States have had no religious instruction.

"The churches of America," he said, "face a tremendous challenge, in bringing Christ and the 'Bread of Life' to millions of youth now outside the influence of any Sabbath school, church, or Sunday school.

"Lay well the religious foundations in the child's early life and you build character, strong citizens and a strong America."

Robert A. Tyson, secretary of the youth department of the Chesapeake Conference, is conducting a daily workshop for youth leaders on how to make their programs more interesting to juveniles.

Probe Of Man's Slaying Pushed

BALTIMORE, June 13 (AP)—Police said today blood found in a stolen and abandoned automobile does not match that of Sydney Lee Cromwell, 42-year-old city employee, found bludgeoned to death in Gwynn's Falls Park Monday.

Captain of Detectives George H. Mintiens said there was no clue as to where the blood in the car might have come from. Originally, police thought the car might have been linked to Cromwell's death.

A 25-year-old acquaintance of Cromwell was still being questioned.

Cromwell's body was found by Miss Ora Burton, 19-year-old Oklahoma girl who was in the city as a magazine solicitor. She first said she made the discovery when chased into the woods by a masher.

Police said she later told them she fabricated the story because she did not want her employer to know she was taking a rest in the woods in mid-day.

Cromwell died when blood from a crushing blow to the jaw filled his lungs and caused suffocation.

Cromwell's wallet was missing, and police said robbery may have been the motive. He was a senior clerk in the city Bureau of Accounts and Disbursements.

That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Seaton Urged To Act

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) today called upon the new secretary of the interior, Fred A. Seaton, to cancel oil and gas leases in wildlife refuges.

Neuberger said in a Senate speech the former secretary, Douglas McKay, "allowed nearly six times as many oil leases within our refuges during a two year period as were permitted by previous interior secretaries during 33 years."

Baltimore St. Bridge Job Is Complicated

There have been quite a few engineering feats in seven years on the big Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection project, but the toughest, in the estimation of engineers, will be the erection of new street and railroad bridges across Wills Creek.

Ordinarily, the construction of a bridge, such as the Market Street span which is nearing completion, is not so difficult.

But what makes this project, a part of the George F. Hazelwood Company contract, so hard is that both vehicular and railroad traffic must be maintained during the construction period. Market Street has been closed during the work there.

Temporary structures will have to be erected. The Baltimore Street Bridge temporary span will not be so intricate, but the Western Maryland Railway temporary span will be quite extensive, as far as work is concerned.

The piling to hold the wooden bridge for pedestrians and cars will be no less than a foot in diameter and will be driven into the bed rock of the creek.

Floor planking will be four-by-18-inch timbers attached to each six-inch by 18-inch stringer. The bottom of the floor will be made of 12 by 12-inch timbers in the suggested plan of the Corps of Engineers. Bracing will be of four-by 12-inch beams.

The temporary bridge will be 25 feet wide, with five-feet for a walkway for pedestrians on the upstream side, and 20-feet for two lanes for autos.

No trucks will be allowed to use the temporary Baltimore Street Bridge.

The contractor will place in conjunction with the Western Maryland Railway a temporary approach 16 feet long that will be built from the wooden span, across the tracks and down into Canal Street.

It will curve and take traffic back into Baltimore Street at the Canal Street intersection. Traffic will be made one-way on Canal Street during the construction period.

The temporary railroad bridge will be placed on steel pilings driven into the bedroad rock of the creek.

There will be ten temporary piers to which 33-foot beams will be welded to form the basis for the track bed, also to be of welded steel beams.

It will extend from the little grassy plot between the end of the present bridge and the building at the end of Baltimore Street 326 feet to a point just beyond the end of the present span.

Six of the eight concrete abutments of the railroad bridge will be removed.

To hold the new bridge will be one abutment that will taper upstream and downstream a distance of 276 feet.

Federal Court Admits Three

Prior to the start of the session yesterday of U. S. District Court in Allegany County Court House, three local attorneys were admitted to practice in federal courts.

Appearing before U. S. District Judge R. Dorsey Watkins were brothers, Gorman B. Getty, attorney to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, and James E. Getty, assistant state's attorney for Allegany County, and George R. Hughes Jr., a member of the House of Delegates.

They received their oath of obligation from Wilfred Butschky, clerk of U. S. District Court for Maryland.

The Getty brothers were sponsored by Earl E. Manges, local attorney, and Hughes by Thomas N. Berry.

Manges pointed to the positions held by the brothers, and added that both were graduates of the University of Maryland School of Law, Gorman in 1937, and James in 1946.

Berry stated that Hughes was a graduate of the same school of law in 1952, and Judge Watkins, recognized Hughes as one of his students when he was teaching the course in torts in the school of law six years ago.

Ordination Of LaVale Man Slated In France

A LaVale man will be ordained into the Catholic priesthood on Friday, June 29, in St. Brieuc Grand Seminary in France.

The ordination will mark the completion of eight years of study, four in France, for Theodore Rowan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rowan of Woodlawn, LaVale.

Most Rev. Armand Coupel, DD, bishop of St. Brieuc, will perform the ceremony.

A 1948 graduate of LaSalle High School, Rowan will return to the United States following his ordination and celebrate his first solemn high mass in St. Patrick's Catholic Church on Sunday, July 22.

An honor student at LaSalle, Rowan enrolled at St. Charles Seminary, Baltimore, in 1948 where he was an honor student and selected from his class to further his education in France. He finished third in his graduation class at LaSalle.

Rowan and another student at St. Charles became the first students from the Baltimore diocese to be selected to study in France.

During his studies in France, Rowan has traveled extensively through Europe, spending his vacations in Germany, Italy, Norway, England, Switzerland, Spain and other countries.

In 1952 he was granted an audience with Pope Pius XII in Rome.

Rowan's two aunts, Miss Nellie Rowan of New York and Mrs. Catherine Everett, Pittsburgh, will attend the ordination.

He is a brother of Richard "Ted" Rowan with the Central Trucking Division of the Celanese Corporation of America, and John Rowan Jr., with the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company in Ohio.

Board To Get Bids On Shower Rooms

The Allegany County Board of Education will receive bids until 3 p. m. June 21 for the construction of a small addition to Cresaptown School.

S. Russ Minter, local architect, has prepared plans and specifications for the job, which calls for construction of shower rooms and game rooms at the school.

AWOL Serviceman Is Arrested Here

City Police Tuesday apprehended a 24-year-old man reported as being AWOL from the Navy.

Lodged in the City Jail last night was James R. Cole, who gave his address as Alma, Ark. He will be turned over to Naval authorities.

Michigan has 11,037 inland lakes within its boundaries.

City Spending Is Reported Below Par For 11 Months

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson reported yesterday that at the end of 11 months of the city's fiscal year May 31, city spending is running slightly below par and that 96.65 per cent of the total levy has been collected.

He added that 97.8 per cent of the 1955-56 tax levy has been collected. Of the total tax levy of $1,128,500, collections amount to $1,103,812.90, he said.

Of the record $1,595,630 levy, Gibson said $1,542,265.50 has been collected. Excess collections reported include $5,826 from the state gas and auto tax and $3,404 from police fines.

Spending for the 11 months is running at 85.57 per cent or about 6 points below normal, Gibson added. Of the $1,350,296.81 appropriated for operating expense, $1,154,494.72 has been expended, he said.

Overdrawn accounts include $2,936.96. This includes $1,174.84 for City Hall and $1,081.17 for public buildings. In both instances the overdraft stemmed from improvements and repairs.

One other account, the airport appropriation, is overdrawn $444.64 in the May 31 report, but Gibson pointed out this money will be returned by the Lions Club which is sharing the expense of purchasing outdoor sanitary facilities which were used the first time during the club's sports car races recently at the airport.

More than one-fourth of all housing costs are devoted to utilities, such as fuel, lighting appliances, gas, electricity and water.

County To Study Post-Mortem Fee

An increase for post-mortem examination fees by the deputy medical examiner for Allegany County was recommended Tuesday to the Allegany County Commissioners.

Dr. Russell S. Fisher, chief medical examiner of the Department of Postmortem Examiners, observed in a letter to the commissioners that under a recent law deputy medical examiners would be allowed to receive $25 for each examination.

It was pointed out that several counties, including Howard, Baltimore, Anne Arundel, Frederick, Garrett and Worcester, have recognized the need for additional fees and raised them from $15 to $25. Allegany County has been paying $15.

Commissioner James Orr said he thought the proposal that would affect Dr. H. V. Deming, this county's examiner, should be studied. Board President William H. Lemmert also said he thought the matter should be studied.

Ordination Of LaVale Man Slated In France

A LaVale man will be ordained into the Catholic priesthood on Friday, June 29, in St. Brieuc Grand Seminary in France.

The ordination will mark the completion of eight years of study, four in France, for Theodore Rowan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rowan of Woodlawn, LaVale.

Most Rev. Armand Coupel, DD, bishop of St. Brieuc, will perform the ceremony.

A 1948 graduate of LaSalle High School, Rowan will return to the United States following his ordination and celebrate his first solemn high mass in St. Patrick's Catholic Church on Sunday, July 22.

THEODORE ROWAN

An honor student at LaSalle, Rowan enrolled at St. Charles Seminary, Baltimore, in 1948 where he was an honor student and selected from his class to further his education in France. He finished third in his graduation class at LaSalle.

Rowan and another student at St. Charles became the first students from the Baltimore diocese to be selected to study in France.

During his studies in France, Rowan has traveled extensively through Europe, spending his vacations in Germany, Italy, Norway, England, Switzerland, Spain and other countries.

In 1952 he was granted an audience with Pope Pius XII in Rome.

Rowan's two aunts, Miss Nellie Rowan of New York and Mrs. Catherine Everett, Pittsburgh, will attend the ordination.

He is a brother of Richard "Ted" Rowan with the Central Trucking Division of the Celanese Corporation of America, and John Rowan Jr., with the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company in Ohio.

City Spending Is Reported Below Par For 11 Months

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson reported yesterday that at the end of 11 months of the city's fiscal year May 31, city spending is running slightly below par and that 96.65 per cent of the total levy has been collected.

He added that 97.8 per cent of the 1955-56 tax levy has been collected. Of the total tax levy of $1,128,500, collections amount to $1,103,812.90, he said.

Of the record $1,595,630 levy, Gibson said $1,542,265.50 has been collected. Excess collections reported include $5,826 from the state gas and auto tax and $3,404 from police fines.

Spending for the 11 months is running at 85.57 per cent or about 6 points below normal, Gibson added. Of the $1,350,296.81 appropriated for operating expense, $1,154,494.72 has been expended, he said.

Overdrawn accounts include $2,936.96. This includes $1,174.84 for City Hall and $1,081.17 for public buildings. In both instances the overdraft stemmed from improvements and repairs.

One other account, the airport appropriation, is overdrawn $444.64 in the May 31 report, but Gibson pointed out this money will be returned by the Lions Club which is sharing the expense of purchasing outdoor sanitary facilities which were used the first time during the club's sports car races recently at the airport.

More than one-fourth of all housing costs are devoted to utilities, such as fuel, lighting appliances, gas, electricity and water.

Girl Seeks $1,000 For Crash Injuries

A $1,000 damage suit which lists four different defendents has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court in behalf of Florence Mae Hedrick, infant, by Charlotte Mae Wolford, her mother and next friend, 221 Elder Street.

Defendants in the action which was filed by Attorney Gorman E. Getty, are Patsy Spataro, Frostburg; Charles Richard Walters, Mt. Savage, and Robert E. Leydig and Charles E. Lowery, both of Hyndman, Pa.

Miss Hedrick was in one of two cars which collided headon in Ellerslie last December 12, according to the declaration. She sustained a broken left arm, severe lacerations of the lower lip, laceration of the lower knee and broke all of her upper teeth.

She was a passenger in the northbound car owned by Leydig and operated by Lowery. The southbound car was operated by Walters and owned by Spataro. Both were traveling at excessive speed, she contended.

McGeady Takes

moted because he came to work late.

"Did you ever write any check against the account of Mr. William E. White?"

In answer to that question by Walsh the defendant said, "I did not."

"Did you ever take any money of the First National Bank?"

"No sir, I did not," was McGeady's answer.

McGeady then related how he went on his vacation at the close of the day's business on August 5, 1955, and during that period had several extractions and a plate made by a local dentist. That was done last August 18.

Driving Past Bank

About 4:30 p. m. August 19 he was on his way to his father's barber shop when he was beckoned into the First National Bank by Francis Ray Blose, bank vice president, who caught his eye as he was driving past the bank at Baltimore and George streets.

McGeady said that his mouth was quite swollen and sore at the time he was called into the bank that day for questioning by Carl Joseph Sorensen and Thomas J. Reppe, special agents for the FBI, and Carvis E. Walker, Newcastle (Pa.) accountant who had been conducting a special investigation of the bank's funds and found the $29,362.13 shortage in the account of W. E. White.

The defendant acknowledged that the adding machine tapes showed him by the investigators for February 28, 1955, were his because they bore his 16A teller's stamp and his handwriting. He insisted, however, that he had no knowledge of how the controversial check for $1,986.14 passed through his work that day so as to appear on the tape.

Concerning the tape for April 22, 1955, McGeady recalled his stamp was on that tape but there was none of his handwriting on the tape.

In turn Walsh showed McGeady copies of the checks dated October 28, 1954; February 28, 1955; April 19, 1955; June 1, 1955, and August 3, 1955, and in each case the defendant denied signing White's name or obtaining the amounts indicated from the First National Bank.

McGeady also related that he was in charge of the bad checks in the bank and that on occasions other tellers came to his window during his absence to leave money or obtain checks. The checks in controversy could have been slipped into his work during such times.

Handled Mail

The former bank teller acknowledged that he had charge of mailing bank statements between February and August 1955, but denied having extracted from the mail any statement addressed to White. On the stand Monday, White said that he had received no statement concerning his account between 1952 and 1955 when the shortage was discovered.

During the final 30 minutes or so he was on the stand McGeady explained that some of the rough estimates he had given the FBI about his expenditures were too high. Sorensen had testified Tuesday that McGeady seemed to be spending more than his salary.

McGeady particularly said he did not spend as much as he originally reported either for bowling or for alcoholic beverages at local bars. He did admit to a few expenditures not listed by Sorensen in his testimony Tuesday.

One particular added income not reported previously was a profit of between $300 and $400 made on the races at Fairgo last June. That prompted Judge Watkins to ask the name of the horse on which he had won. McGeady said he could not answer that nor how he failed to mention these winnings to the FBI men who questioned him last August 19 and 20 and October 28.

McGeady said he generally bet on horses 2 and 8 because his son was born on February 8, 1950. The defendant testified that he never bet with bookies in Cumberland or elsewhere.

Yesterday morning a string of First National Bank employes went to the witness stand to deny ever having placed a check of W. E. White's in McGeady's cash drawer or having seen anyone else do it.

These final witnesses for the government on the third day of the trial were Victor Michael DeMarino, Eckhart, head teller after McGeady' demotion in February 1955; Mrs. Lillian Klavuhn, 712 Sylvan Avenue, general bookkeeper and substitute teller between July 1955 and November 1955; Miss Rebecca Otto, LaVale; Mrs. Ina Mae Higson, 109 Auburn Avenue; Mrs. Janet Stutzman, 713 Lincoln Street; Mrs. Betty C. Bess, 419 Washington Street; Miss Mae Howdyshell, 121 Oak Street, and Francis S. Gaudio, Eckhart, all tellers at the bank.

Also called to the stand was Mrs. Helen Virginia Vandegrift, 622 Hilltop Drive, a former teller at the bank. Mrs. Vandegrift admitted having had dates with McGeady during a period in 1955 but said that at that time she was under the impression he and his wife were separated.

A former official of the First National Bank, T. Victor Fier, former vice president and trust officer, testified Tuesday under cross examination that he recalled on an occasion in recent years in which a check drawn on another bank and on a check list disappeared. Fier said it was a check for $1,300 or $1,800 which appeared on the proof machine as having been sent to the Liberty Trust Company but never was received there.

Walker, Newcastle (Pa.) accountant who had been conducting a special investigation of the bank's funds and found the $29,362.13 shortage in the account of W. E. White.

The defendant acknowledged that the adding machine tapes showed him by the investigators for February 28, 1955, were his because they bore his 16A teller's stamp and his handwriting. He insisted, however, that he had no knowledge of how the controversial check for $1,986.14 passed through his work that day so as to appear on the tape.

Concerning the tape for April 22, 1955, McGeady recalled his stamp was on that tape but there was none of his handwriting on the tape.

In turn Walsh showed McGeady copies of the checks dated October 28, 1954; February 28, 1955; April 19, 1955; June 1, 1955, and August 3, 1955, and in each case the defendant denied signing White's name or obtaining the amounts indicated from the First National Bank.

McGeady also related that he was in charge of the bad checks in the bank and that on occasions other tellers came to his window during his absence to leave money or obtain checks. The checks in controversy could have been slipped into his work during such times.

Handled Mail

The former bank teller acknowledged that he had charge of mailing bank statements between February and August 1955, but denied having extracted from the mail any statement addressed to White. On the stand Monday, White said that he had received no statement concerning his account between 1952 and 1955 when the shortage was discovered.

During the final 30 minutes or so he was on the stand McGeady explained that some of the rough estimates he had given the FBI about his expenditures were too high. Sorensen had testified Tuesday that McGeady seemed to be spending more than his salary.

McGeady particularly said he did not spend as much as he originally reported either for bowling or for alcoholic beverages at local bars. He did admit to a few expenditures not listed by Sorensen in his testimony Tuesday.

One particular added income not reported previously was a profit of between $300 and $400 made on the races at Fairgo last June. That prompted Judge Watkins to ask the name of the horse on which he had won. McGeady said he could not answer that nor how he failed to mention these winnings to the FBI men who questioned him last August 19 and 20 and October 28.

McGeady said he generally bet on horses 2 and 8 because his son was born on February 8, 1950. The defendant testified that he never bet with bookies in Cumberland or elsewhere.

Yesterday morning a string of First National Bank employes went to the witness stand to deny ever having placed a check of W. E. White's in McGeady's cash drawer or having seen anyone else do it.

These final witnesses for the government on the third day of the trial were Victor Michael DeMarino, Eckhart, head teller after McGeady' demotion in February 1955; Mrs. Lillian Klavuhn, 712 Sylvan Avenue, general bookkeeper and substitute teller between July 1955 and November 1955; Miss Rebecca Otto, LaVale; Mrs. Ina Mae Higson, 109 Auburn Avenue; Mrs. Janet Stutzman, 713 Lincoln Street; Mrs. Betty C. Bess, 419 Washington Street; Miss Mae Howdyshell, 121 Oak Street, and Francis S. Gaudio, Eckhart, all tellers at the bank.

Also called to the stand was Mrs. Helen Virginia Vandegrift, 622 Hilltop Drive, a former teller at the bank. Mrs. Vandegrift admitted having had dates with McGeady during a period in 1955 but said that at that time she was under the impression he and his wife were separated.

A former official of the First National Bank, T. Victor Fier, former vice president and trust officer, testified Tuesday under cross examination that he recalled an occasion in recent years in which a check drawn on another bank and on a check list disappeared. Fier said it was a check for $1,500 or $1,800 which appeared on the proof machine as having been sent to the Liberty Trust Company but never was received there.

All Work And No Play A Menace To Health

Much has been heard to the effect that Soviet Russia's educational system is currently outpacing American universities and colleges in the number of trained scientists it is turning out to bolster the cause of communism against the Western way of life.

However that may be, nine of Russia's most prominent physicians and pediatricians have just warned that the Soviet educational system is increasingly becoming a menace to the health of its youth.

Soviet educational authorities, according to the New York Times, are criticized as burdening pupils between the ages of 10 and 13 with studies requiring 10 to 13 hours a day. Children from 15 to 17 years old reportedly spend 10 to 12 hours a day at lessons. And 14 to 16 hour days are inflicted upon pupils in schools of art and music.

These medical men have found Russian children victims of chronic over-exhaustion, frequent headaches, weakened memory and vision, and poor resistance to infectious diseases. Behind their warning, they say, are years in which they have observed the "severe consequences" of school children's heavy training schedules.

If the pace of Russia's schools is as dangerous to children's health as the doctors say it is, no one should be surprised—in the light of the "all-out" policy which Soviet leaders usually order in any phase of their national programs.

What prompts the doctors to speak out at this time is not clear. Perhaps the explanation can be found in the recent increase of school physicians' loads from 1,000 to 1,500 pupils to 2,500 pupils. It could be that this was the straw needed to make the medical men risk voicing their sentiments.

The Hand Of Fate

The Constitution fixes the term of the president, when he is to be elected and how. The Constitution makes broad, general provisions as to what is to happen if the president dies in office or is incapacitated or resigns. Incapacitated is not carefully defined. In contemporary times, Woodrow Wilson, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Dwight D. Eisenhower were very sick men while in office; Warren G. Harding died. The United States continued as a nation and the American people continued to thrive despite these regrettable manifestations of the mortality of man.

No physician can guarantee the good health or long life of any man in public office. Dr. Paul Dudley White gave the impression that President Eisenhower is good for another five or ten years. Dr. White knows no more about that than you or I. When Dr. White was doing all this talking, I was in the hospital, seized by the same type of heart attack that Eisenhower had. I asked my doctors to give me guarantees similar to those which Dr. White apparently gave about President Eisenhower. They refused. And quite rightly. Who are these doctors? God?

For what happened to Eisenhower, could happen to Stevenson, to Harriman, to anybody. Men have been known to go to a doctor for an annual examination, pass top-notch, be congratulated by the doctor, and drop dead on his doorstep. Those who shout that every candidate for the presidency undergo an examination are talking out of their hats. Such an examination may, and often does not, disclose some trouble, but offers no guarantee that nothing will show up in a few months or for that matter on the very next day. When one passes 50, things begin to wear out and break away and most men in public life have abused their bodies achieving distinction and popularity. Of course, we might elect a youth to the presidency, one whose maturity is to be measured by I.Q. tests and the ability to answer questions in a manner that satisfies the ego of a professor.

The fact that President Eisenhower was hit down twice while in office does not mean that he is incapacitated permanently or that he will be struck down a third time or that he will not be struck down, or that his opponents are strong and healthy and will surely outlive him. About such matters, nobody can know anything. In 1952, Bob Taft was a physically strong figure who was able to travel all over the country making hundreds of speeches. He was examined by a competent physician who found no warrant for restraining him. But he died of a cancer within months.

The objection to General Douglas MacArthur as a presidential candidate was that he was too old. But here he is four years later strong in body and mind, seemingly ageless. Harry Truman was a well man in office, but nearly died of a disease a year later, and is now travelling the world as a columnist.

None of this proves anything more than that the human body is weak and requires fixing up, cutting away, correcting, adjusting as we go along. The body is such a complex physical and chemical instrument that it is a marvel and a miracle that it works at all, but it does work and even under the most adverse conditions. For instance, Beethoven became deaf early in life. We assume that music is something to be heard. But Beethoven never heard either his Fifth or his Ninth symphonies. But he wrote them. Helen Keller has been blind and deaf nearly all her life, but she became a great public figure. Thomas Edison could not hear but he invented the phonograph. Milton was blind but he wrote some of the greatest poetry in any language.

The human mind is an ingenious instrument which is at its greatest when it transcends all difficulties and impediments. The question is not whether Eisenhower is a well or a sick man; it is whether he has been a competent President. Similarly, it does not so much matter whether Stevenson, Harriman, Johnson or Symington, to mention a few Democratic candidates, is sick or whole, but whether each is a competent, broad-spirited man of character. Who will be alive four years from now, nobody can say for you, for me, for a president or for anyone.

Supreme Court Decision On Subversives Criticized

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Three justices of the Supreme Court of the United States say emphatically that the six other justices have just issued a decision which "has stricken down the most efficient weapon against subversive activity available to the government."

This decision must be good news to Moscow. It must be good news to the thousands of hard-core Communists in America who are trying to get inside the Government of the United States through agents, stooges and dupes. It must be good news also to the misguided individuals in certain so-called "liberal" circles who have been striving in recent months to break down the whole security program.

Tortured Concept

For, by a single stroke, the Supreme Court majority—Justices Harlan, Frankfurter, Douglas, Black, Burton and Chief Justice Warren—has practically opened the doors to Communist subversives inside many agencies of government. Unless the Congress acts immediately by legislation to erase the Supreme Court's tortured concept of what it thinks is the law, the entire security program will be endangered. For the Congress still makes the laws—even though the Supreme Court has the power to frustrate their enforcement by extraneous technicalities.

The point at issue relates to a law passed in 1950 by Congress which designated certain agencies of the government as "sensitive" but left it to the President to make, in his discretion, that designation for other agencies. The Supreme Court says that, when the President sought by executive order to designate additional agencies as "sensitive," he didn't have the power to do so because he didn't spell out the actual relationship of those agencies to the national security. Also the court argues now that it is not only the individual but the position he occupies which must be declared "sensitive" and the relationship defined. The minority opinion by Justices Reed, Minton and Clark, however, says:

"It is not realistic to say that the government can be protected merely by applying the act to sensitive jobs. One never knows just which job is sensitive. The janitor might prove to be in as important a spot security-wise as the top employe in the building . . .

"The President's standard is 'complete and unswerving loyalty' not only in sensitive places but throughout the government. The President requires and every employe should give no less. This is all that the act and the order require. They should not be subverted by the technical interpretation the majority places on them today."

Can Become Sensitive

It seems incredible that these six Supreme Court justices should be living in such a vacuum that they do not know the technique of Communist infiltration as it has been uncovered in case after case and in the hearings of committees in Congress. An employe in a Railroad Retirement Bureau, for example, may be said not to be working in a "sensitive" agency but, if he can furnish the names of key employes in transportation centers in certain sections of the country and overnight the nation gets into war, the enemy would have a valuable list for its sabotage.

Likewise, with the right to send out letters on government stationery, all kinds of seemingly innocent information, valuable to the enemy, can be acquired. One day a food inspector can be working in a non-sensitive agency, but overnight that same agency can be highly sensitive if it is discovered that bacteriological warfare is being conducted through the distribution of the food supply to the armed forces. The cases of dangerous subversion possible in so-called "non-sensitive" agencies are limitless, and that's why the President's executive order covered all government employes.

The six Supreme Court justices, however, do not seem to take account of the "clear and present danger" doctrine which Judge Learned Hand espoused in his famous decision. He wrote:

"The question before us, and the only one, is how long a government, having discovered such a (Communist) conspiracy, must wait. When does the conspiracy become a 'present danger'? The jury has found that the conspirators will strike as soon as success seems possible, and, obviously, no one in his senses would strike sooner."

Set Impossible Task

But the Supreme Court majority evidently argues now that the government must wait till the conspiracy is consummated. The government cannot take precautions in advance—at least, the six justices say that existing law doesn't permit dismissals because it doesn't require the President to spell out in advance in a special memorandum in every case the exact risk to national security involved in every potential case of sabotage in which a known and proved security risk might operate.

Plainly, the Supreme Court majority has set an impossible task for the government and even the writers of remedial legislation will have a hard time drafting a law that suits the judicial whim of the six justices who insist that the President of the United States cannot be trusted to render a judgment as to which employes may be retained or dismissed or to set up proper procedures to ascertain whether their continuous employment in a government job constitutes a risk to the safety of the government.

Some Suntan Lotions May Sensitize Skin To Sun

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

For many years we have known that certain chemicals sensitize the skin to the rays of the sun. Cosmetics containing oil of bergamot, for example, are most troublesome along this line. A rash develops (photodermatitis) whenever the chemical is applied to an exposed surface. The latest offenders are—of all things—suntain lotions and protective creams.

Some individuals have a natural allergy to Old Sol. They develop stinging, itching, eczema, hives, or other forms of dermatitis on exposure to sunlight. The extremely sensitive may be affected in this way after staying in the midsummer sun for two minutes. These people seek the shady side of the street and never venture out unless protected with a wide brimmed hat or parasol.

The victim of photodermatitis also is sensitive but something must be applied to the skin first to bring out the sensitivity. Burning and tanning occur just as in anyone else.

But when photosensitizing chemicals are applied to the skin and the individual then goes out of doors, the exposed part of the body becomes discolored and breaks out into eczema or hives. It is mystifying to say the least, especially if cause and effect are not understood.

The first suggestion that certain suntan lotions were capable of sensitizing the skin came from Florida, where sunshine is plentiful and long exposure is possible. The patient in question decided she wanted to tan without burning and applied a lotion for that purpose.

After being out of doors too long she discovered that a rash was developing over the exposed skin. This reaction was similar to that of a person who is sensitive to the sun's rays except that she never had been affected this way before.

Dr. Wiley M. Sams of Miami saw several patients who responded to exposure in this way and decided to run patch tests on the skin to determine the cause. He started by exposing a small area to ultraviolet light. The skin tanned a little but otherwise nothing happened. This meant that the sun was not responsible.

Then he placed certain chemicals on little square pieces of gauze and fixed them to the skin. This is the usual test for contact dermatitis. The results were negative in that a rash failed to arise. But when he first applied a sun screening cream to the skin and then exposed the area to ultraviolet, an eruption developed.

In this respect he duplicated what milady had done prior to her sunbath. Although Dr. Sams has encountered many such cases, the number of photosensitive persons must be extremely small, considering the millions who apply sun lotions and creams before going to the beach.

TOMORROW: The driver's psychology.

The day before Disneyland opened, Walt Disney discovered he had no swans for the moat outside the Fantasyland castle. Always the perfectionist, Disney talked Producer Mervyn LeRoy into driving to the Santa Anita racetrack and buying a few pairs of swans he remembered seeing there. The swans cost Disney $550 the pair for white swans, $750 the pair for black ones—but probably not a dozen people out of the thousands who stormed the gates on opening day even noticed the swank swans paddling about!

GOP Leaders Decided Fast Ike Must Run Whether He Wants To Or Not

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—After about 24 hours of hectic indecision immediately after Eisenhower's illness, the Republican high command has decided on a united and vigorous front that he can and must run again.

Hardly was he out from under the anesthetic than the word was passed down to the party faithful. Unofficially there were serious misgivings, but offically this was the party line. The President himself didn't have a word to say about it, nor did his wife and son.

The official line was adopted despite the fact that General Eisenhower himself has been quite frank about his health and his own worry over it. He is about the only man who has been frank.

Here is the record of what Eisenhower has said, both in public and in private:

1. At a stag dinner in the winter of 1954 he told Chairman Len Hall, Attorney General Brownell, and other close advisers that the Republican party should not depend on one man, that they should start to build up new men to take his place. And he named some who should be groomed.

Despite this, both Chairman Hall and Vice President Nixon left the dinner to make emphatic statements that Ike was sure to run.

2. In May 1955, Eisenhower told Sen. George Bender of Ohio that if he ran again he would be the only president to reach the age of 70 in the White House. And he spoke—all too prophetically about the erosion on the health of any president. To make sure his views were known publicly he asked Jim Hagerty to see to it that this view was expressed to the press.

3. In September 1955, as Republican leaders gathered in Denver, their faces grew long as the President told them, in brief, that they could not pin their future on one man, that they must begin developing other candidates. This was just three weeks prior to Eisenhower's tragic heart attack.

4. When he came back from that heart attack, Eisenhower told newsmen at Key West, Fla., that it would be wrong for him to run again unless he had a good chance of serving out a second term, because "it is a very critical thing to change governments in this country at a time when it's unexpected."

5. At his first White House press conference after the heart attack he warned: "It would be idle to pretend that my health can be wholly restored to the excellent state in which the doctors believed it to be in mid-September . . . My future life must be carefully regulated to avoid excessive fatigue."

That is the unequivocal record of Ike's apparently definite decision at that time not to run again.

Politicians' Shrewd Strategy

However, he reckoned without the leaders of his party—some of the shrewdest leaders the party has had in many years.

Chairman Hall, the top mastermind, went to Gettysburg; came out to announce that he was confident Ike would run again. Senator Knowland of California, who called on the President the same day, came out with just the opposite opinion.

What Hall did at Gettysburg was to start a holding operation. He asked the President not to say "no," at least for the time being, on the ground that he needed to keep Congress guessing for the sake of his legislative program. A lame-duck president, Hall argued, has no influence with Congress.

Ike bought Hall's holding-operation strategy. It was the smartest thing Hall had ever done. For the passage of time gave the leaders, the White House staff, everyone around the President time to pressure him, to argue that he was the indispensable man. Simultaneously he got back his old confidence.

Ike Was Right

The President, however, was right when he talked about the erosion of the health of any man who occupies the Presidency, as his latest illness now demonstrates. He was right also when he warned that "It is a very critical thing to change governments in this country at a time when it is unexpected." The drop in the stock market, the meeting of Pan American presidents left high and dry in Panama, the abortive visit of Chancellor Adenauer, the problem of what to do about Premier Nehru—all illustrate how the complicated machinery of American government is upset when an American president is benched.

So the big question is: Will Ike now follow his own advice? Will he carry out his own statement of March 7, which read:

"I have said, unless I felt absolutely up to to the performance of the duties of the President, the second that I didn't, I would no longer be there in the job, or I wouldn't be available for the job.

"I am talking about my general, let's say organic fitness for the job, as I see it ,and that means carrying a burden of hard work right on through the year and through the months.

"Now any time that I believe that has failed to the point of inability to perform the job properly, then that goes before the American people instantly."

Washington Pipeline

Gen. Lucius Clay, head of Continental Can, and one of Ike's closest friends, phoned the White House immediately after Ike was taken sick and suggested future GOP strategy. Ike's digestive difficulty, General Clay advised, had been considered by the President when he made up his mind to run again. Therefore, the operation won't change his mind . . . Some White House friends were frank in stating that all Ike needs to do is have his name on the ballot. Whether sick or well, he can win . . . The President, who knows his own mind and inclinations better than anyone else, was quoted by Merriman Smith of the United Press last winter as remarking to friends as he walked through the White House: "I had to say yes because they told me they didn't have time to build up another candidate." . . . The item was killed by Lyle Wilson, head of the Washington UP Bureau, though Merriman, dean of White House correspondents, swore the statement was correct. Some weeks later, after the "kill" had aroused considerable comment among editors, Hagerty arranged for the President to make a diplomatic explanation that if he had ever said this, he didn't really mean it . . . When the President was taken sick, he held a cabinet meeting scheduled for that morning. It was not canceled at first, but postponed to 2 p. m. No one at the White House at that time had any idea how sick he really was.

Inside Washington

By Central Press

WASHINGTON — If President Eisenhower should win re-election this autumn, as most Washingtonians think, you can look for several changes in his cabinet for his second term.

Only three of Ike's original cabinet appointees left during his first term in office—Welfare Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby, Interior Secretary Douglas McKay and Labor Secretary Martin Durkin.

However, several others are known to be anxious to get back into private life and it's a good bet that they will offer their resignations if Ike gets a second term in the White House.

Among these are Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and the new Welfare secretary, Marion Folsom.

Folsom wants to return to his position with the Eastman Kodak Company, Weeks is said to have tired of public life and its problems, and Wilson also is reported anxious to get back to General Motors.

There also have been reports that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles would like to retire, but the President is said to want his foreign policy chief to return. Also definitely certain of reappointment in a second-term cabinet are Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey and Attorney General Herbert Brownell. Other cabinet members also are expected to remain.

Hard Feelings

Political observers are convinced there is no prospect for a Stevenson-Kefauver ticket for the Democrats this year in the wake of the bristling Florida and California primary campaigns.

Although both aspirants for the Democratic presidential nomination maintained a surface friendship, both were stung by some of the other's statements in the heat of battle.

Stevenson was particularly ruffled by Kefauver assertion that he was conducting a "smile and smear" campaign, likening the 1952 nominee's attitude to that adopted by President Eisenhower toward Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Kefauver was angered by the statement of Stevenson supporter Millard Caldwell, former Florida governor, that the senator was a "sycophant" in his efforts to woo the Negro vote.

Sister's Role

Adlai Stevenson's sister, Mrs. Elizabeth S. (Buffie) Ives, is expected to play an increasing role in her brother's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Should Stevenson be elected President, Mrs. Ives undoubtedly would become his official White House hostess, since the former Illinois governor is unmarried. She would like nothing better.

Mrs. Ives also is considered a powerful political asset for her brother. Party officials noted that she received the warmest ovation at a recent Democratic women's luncheon when she was introduced along with the wives of some other possible candidates — including Mrs. Estes Kefauver, Mrs. Lyndon Johnson and Mrs. Stuart Symington.

In addition, she supplies Adlai with some of the "family atmosphere" which Stevenson would otherwise lack, since he is a divorced man. That, as any political expert will tell you, is mighty important.

Back Talk

Look for the Federal Reserve to backtrack on its tight money policy some time in the next few weeks. However, it will not be due to criticism of its action in April hiking interest r a t e s charged banks for loans.

The Federal Reserve adjusts its policies to meet changing conditions, and now it faces a changed condition—business activity is slackening. Easing the supply of money by lowering the interest rate would be calculated to increase business investment, and thus speed up commercial activity of all kinds.

Brannan And Benson

The decision of former Agriculture Secretary Charles F. Brannan to run for the Senate from Colorado promises to throw the present secretary, Ezra Taft Benson, even deeper into the political wars.

Benson probably will do a lot of active campaigning against Brannan as the Republicans seek to stem Democratic efforts to win the crucial farm vote.

The two men often have been at odds over what they believe is best for American agriculture and you can look for their differences to become more violent between now and November.

All Work And No Play A Menace To Health

Much has been heard to the effect that Soviet Russia's educational system is currently outpacing American universities and colleges in the number of trained scientists it is turning out to bolster the cause of communism against the Western way of life.

However that may be, nine of Russia's most prominent physicians and pediatricians have just warned that the Soviet educational system is increasingly becoming a menace to the health of its youth.

Soviet educational authorities, according to the New York Times, are criticized as burdening pupils between the ages of 10 and 13 with studies requiring 10 to 13 hours a day. Children from 15 to 17 years old reportedly spend 10 to 12 hours a day at lessons. And 14 to 16 hour days are inflicted upon pupils in schools of art and music.

These medical men have found Russian children victims of chronic over-exhaustion, frequent headaches, weakened memory and vision, and poor resistance to infectious diseases. Behind their warning, they say, are years in which they have observed the "severe consequences" of school children's heavy training schedules.

If the pace of Russia's schools is as dangerous to children's health as the doctors say it is, no one should be surprised—in the light of the "all-out" policy which Soviet leaders usually order in any phase of their national programs.

What prompts the doctors to speak out at this time is not clear. Perhaps the explanation can be found in the recent increase of school physicians' loads from 1,000 to 1,500 pupils to 2,500 pupils. It could be that this was the straw needed to make the medical men risk voicing their sentiments.

The Hand Of Fate

The Constitution fixes the term of the president, when he is to be elected and how. The Constitution makes broad, general provisions as to what is to happen if the president dies in office or is incapacitated or resigns. Incapacitated is not carefully defined. In contemporary times, Woodrow Wilson, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Dwight D. Eisenhower were very sick men while in office; Warren G. Harding died. The United States continued as a nation and the American people continued to thrive despite these regrettable manifestations of the mortality of man.

No physician can guarantee the good health or long life of any man in public office. Dr. Paul Dudley White gave the impression that President Eisenhower is good for another five or ten years. Dr. White knows no more about that than you or I. When Dr. White was doing all this talking, I was in the hospital, seized by the same type of heart attack that Eisenhower had. I asked my doctors to give me guarantees similar to those which Dr. White apparently gave about President Eisenhower. They refused. And quite rightly. Who are these doctors? God?

For what happened to Eisenhower, could happen to Stevenson, to Harriman, to anybody. Men have been known to go to a doctor for an annual examination, pass top-notch, be congratulated by the doctor, and drop dead on his doorstep. Those who shout that every candidate for the presidency undergo an examination are talking out of their hats. Such an examination may, and often does not, disclose some trouble, but offers no guarantee that nothing will show up in a few months or for that matter on the very next day. When one passes 50, things begin to wear out and break away and most men in public life have abused their bodies achieving distinction and popularity. Of course, we might elect a youth to the presidency, one whose maturity is to be measured by I.Q. tests and the ability to answer questions in a manner that satisfies the ego of a professor.

The fact that President Eisenhower was hit down twice while in office does not mean that he is incapacitated permanently or that he will be struck down a third time or that he will not be struck down, or that his opponents are strong and healthy and will surely outlive him. About such matters, nobody can know anything. In 1952, Bob Taft was a physically strong figure who was able to travel all over the country making hundreds of speeches. He was examined by a competent physician who found no warrant for restraining him. But he died of a cancer within months.

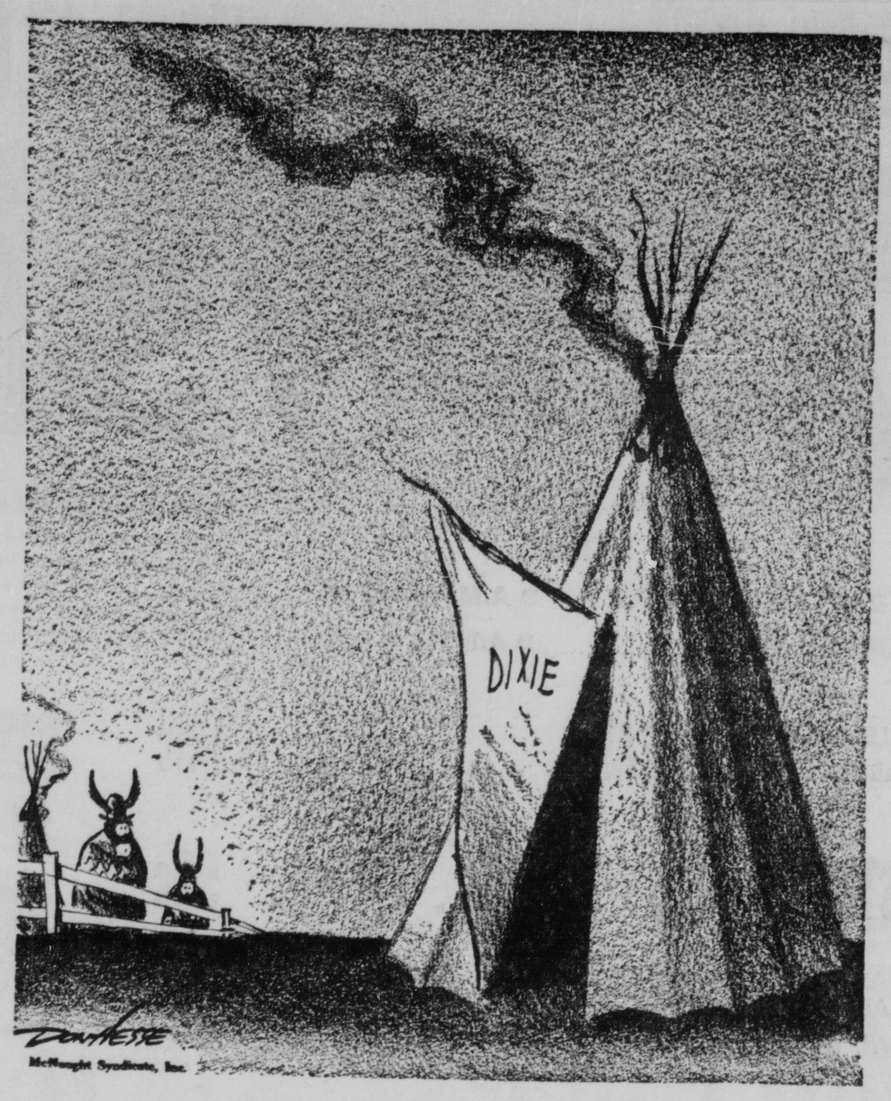

The objection to General Douglas MacArthur as a presidential candidate was that he was too old. But here he is four years later strong in body and mind, seemingly ageless. Harry Truman was a well man in office, but nearly died of a disease a year later, and is now travelling the world as a columnist.

None of this proves anything more than that the human body is weak and requires fixing up, cutting away, correcting, adjusting as we go along. The body is such a complex physical and chemical instrument that it is a marvel and a miracle that it works at all, but it does work and even under the most adverse conditions. For instance, Beethoven became deaf early in life. We assume that music is something to be heard. But Beethoven never heard either his Fifth or his Ninth symphonies. But he wrote them. Helen Keller has been blind and deaf nearly all her life, but she became a great public figure. Thomas Edison could not hear but he invented the phonograph. Milton was blind but he wrote some of the greatest poetry in any language.

The human mind is an ingenious instrument which is at its greatest when it transcends all difficulties and impediments. The question is not whether Eisenhower is a well or a sick man; it is whether he has been a competent President. Similarly, it does not so much matter whether Stevenson, Harriman, Johnson or Symington, to mention a few Democratic candidates, is sick or whole, but whether each is a competent, broad-spirited man of character. Who will be alive four years from now, nobody can say for you, for me, for a president or for anyone.

GOP Leaders Decided Fast Ike Must Run Whether He Wants To Or Not

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—After about 24 hours of hectic indecision immediately after Eisenhower's illness, the Republican high command has decided on a united and vigorous front that he can and must run again.

Hardly was he out from under the anesthetic than the word was passed down to the party faithful. Unofficially there were serious misgivings, but offically this was the party line. The President himself didn't have a word to say about it, nor did his wife and son.

The official line was adopted despite the fact that General Eisenhower himself has been quite frank about his health and his own worry over it. He is about the only man who has been frank.

Here is the record of what Eisenhower has said, both in public and in private:

1. At a stag dinner in the winter of 1954 he told Chairman Len Hall, Attorney General Brownell, and other close advisers that the Republican party should not depend on one man, that they should start to build up new men to take his place. And he named some who should be groomed.

Despite this, both Chairman Hall and Vice President Nixon left the dinner to make emphatic statements that Ike was sure to run.

2. In May 1955, Eisenhower told Sen. George Bender of Ohio that if he ran again he would be the only president to reach the age of 70 in the White House. And he spoke—all too prophetically about the erosion on the health of any president. To make sure his views were known publicly he asked Jim Hagerty to see to it that this view was expressed to the press.

3. In September 1955, as Republican leaders gathered in Denver, their faces grew long as the President told them, in brief, that they could not pin their future on one man, that they must begin developing other candidates. This was just three weeks prior to Eisenhower's tragic heart attack.

4. When he came back from that heart attack, Eisenhower told newsmen at Key West, Fla., that it would be wrong for him to run again unless he had a good chance of serving out a second term, because "it is a very critical thing to change governments in this country at a time when it's unexpected."

5. At his first White House press conference after the heart attack he warned: "It would be idle to pretend that my health can be wholly restored to the excellent state in which the doctors believed it to be in mid-September . . . My future life must be carefully regulated to avoid excessive fatigue."

That is the unequivocal record of Ike's apparently definite decision at that time not to run again.

Politicians' Shrewd Strategy

However, he reckoned without the leaders of his party—some of the shrewdest leaders the party has had in many years.

Chairman Hall, the top mastermind, went to Gettysburg; came out to announce that he was confident Ike would run again. Senator Knowland of California, who called on the President the same day, came out with just the opposite opinion.

What Hall did at Gettysburg was to start a holding operation. He asked the President not to say "no," at least for the time being, on the ground that he needed to keep Congress guessing for the sake of his legislative program. A lame-duck president, Hall argued, has no influence with Congress.

Ike bought Hall's holding-operation strategy. It was the smartest thing Hall had ever done. For the passage of time gave the leaders, the White House staff, everyone around the President time to pressure him, to argue that he was the indispensable man. Simultaneously he got back his old confidence.

Ike Was Right

The President, however, was right when he talked about the erosion of the health of any man who occupies the Presidency, as his latest illness now demonstrates. He was right also when he warned that "It is a very critical thing to change governments in this country at a time when it is unexpected, the drop in the stock market, the meeting of Pan American presidents left high and dry in Panama, the abortive visit of Chancellor Adenauer, the problem of what to do about Premier Nehru—all illustrate how the complicated machinery of American government is upset when an American president is benched.

So the big question is: Will Ike now follow his own advice? Will he carry out his own statement of March 7, which read:

"I have said, unless I felt absolutely up to to the performance of the duties of the President, the second that I didn't, I would no longer be there in the job, or I wouldn't be available for the job.

"I am talking about my general, let's say organic fitness for the job, as I see it ,and that means carrying a burden of hard work right on through the year and through the months.

"Now any time that I believe that has failed to the point of inability to perform the job properly, then that goes before the American people instantly."

Washington Pipeline

Gen. Lucius Clay, head of Continental Can, and one of Ike's closest friends, phoned the White House immediately after Ike was taken sick and suggested future GOP strategy. Ike's digestive difficulty, General Clay advised, had been considered by the President when he made up his mind to run again. Therefore, the operation won't change his mind . . . Some White House friends were frank in stating that all Ike needs to do is have his name on the ballot. Whether sick or well, he can win . . . The President, who knows his own mind and inclinations better than anyone else, was quoted by Merriman Smith of the United Press last winter as remarking to friends as he walked through the White House: "I had to say yes because they told me they didn't have time to build up another candidate." . . . The item was killed by Lyle Wilson, head of the Washington UP Bureau, though Merriman, dean of White House correspondents, swore the statement was correct. Some weeks later, after the "kill" had aroused considerable comment among editors, Hagerty arranged for the President to make a diplomatic explanation that if he had ever said this, he didn't really mean it . . . When the President was taken sick, he held a cabinet meeting scheduled for that morning. It was not canceled at first, but postponed to 2 p. m. No one at the White House at that time had any idea how sick he really was.

Supreme Court Decision On Subversives Criticized

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Three justices of the Supreme Court of the United States say emphatically that the six other justices have just issued a decision which "has stricken down the most efficient weapon against subversive activity available to the government."

This decision must be good news to Moscow. It must be good news to the thousands of hard-core Communists in America who are trying to get inside the Government of the United States through agents, stooges and dupes. It must be good news also to the misguided individuals in certain so-called "liberal" circles who have been striving in recent months to break down the whole security program.

Tortured Concept

For, by a single stroke, the Supreme Court majority—Justices Harlan, Frankfurter, Douglas, Black, Burton and Chief Justice Warren—has practically opened the doors to Communist subversives inside many agencies of government. Unless the Congress acts immediately by legislation to erase the Supreme Court's tortured concept of what it thinks is the law, the entire security program will be endangered. For the Congress still makes the laws—even though the Supreme Court has the power to frustrate their enforcement by extraneous technicalities.

The point at issue relates to a law passed in 1950 by Congress which designated certain agencies of the government as "sensitive" but left it to the President to make, in his discretion, that designation for other agencies. The Supreme Court says that, when the President sought by executive order to designate additional agencies as "sensitive," he didn't have the power to do so because he didn't spell out the actual relationship of those agencies to the national security. Also the court argues now that it is not only the individual but the position he occupies which must be declared "sensitive" and the relationship defined. The minority opinion by Justices Reed, Minton and Clark, however, says:

"It is not realistic to say that the government can be protected merely by applying the act to sensitive jobs. One never knows just which job is sensitive. The janitor might prove to be in as important a spot security-wise as the top employe in the building . . .

"The President's standard is 'complete and unswerving loyalty' not only in sensitive places but throughout the government. The President requires and every employe should give no less. This is all that the act and the order require. They should not be subverted by the technical interpretation the majority places on them today."

Can Become Sensitive

It seems incredible that these six Supreme Court justices should be living in such a vacuum that they do not know the technique of Communist infiltration as it has been uncovered in case after case and in the hearings of committees in Congress. An employe in a Railroad Retirement Bureau, for example, may be said not to be working in a "sensitive" agency but, if he can furnish the names of key employes in transportation centers in certain sections of the country and overnight the nation gets into war, the enemy would have a valuable list for its sabotage.

Likewise, with the right to send out letters on government stationery, all kinds of seemingly innocent information, valuable to the enemy, can be acquired. One day a food inspector can be working in a non-sensitive agency, but overnight that same agency can be highly sensitive if it is discovered that bacteriological warfare is being conducted through the distribution of the food supply to the armed forces. The cases of dangerous subversion possible in so-called "non-sensitive" agencies are limitless, and that's why the President's executive order covered all government employes.

The six Supreme Court justices, however, do not seem to take account of the "clear and present danger" doctrine which Judge Learned Hand espoused in his famous decision. He wrote:

"The question before us, and the only one, is how long a government, having discovered such a (Communist) conspiracy, must wait. When does the conspiracy become a 'present danger'? The jury has found that the conspirators will strike as soon as success seems possible, and, obviously, no one in his senses would strike sooner."

Set Impossible Task

But the Supreme Court majority evidently argues now that the government must wait till the conspiracy is consummated. The government cannot take precautions in advance—at least, the six justices say that existing law doesn't permit dismissals because it doesn't require the President to spell out in advance in a special memorandum in every case the exact risk to national security involved in every potential case of sabotage in which a known and proved security risk might operate.

Plainly, the Supreme Court majority has set an impossible task for the government and even the writers of remedial legislation will have a hard time drafting a law that suits the judicial whim of the six justices who insist that the President of the United States cannot be trusted to render a judgment as to which employes may be retained or dismissed or to set up proper procedures to ascertain whether their continuous employment in a government job constitutes a risk to the safety of the government.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Our five-corridor man in the Pentagon zone reports everything in triplicate except the nepotism. It's a five-cornered argument between three services.

Paperwork Sam the documented-stuffed dummy was fired from a swivel-chair during a supersonic bawl-out. It was an F-66 jet appointment subject to a two-thirds absence of the Senate.

Probably was due to faulty packing on the benzine board. Paperwork Sam left his swivel okay. But the nodding was not synchronized.

The self-propelled lobbyists claim they can build a safety seat that will expel anything under a presidential nominee.

Inside Washington

By Central Press

WASHINGTON — If President Eisenhower should win re-election this autumn, as most Washingtonians think, you can look for several changes in his cabinet for his second term.

Only three of Ike's original cabinet appointees left during his first term in office—Welfare Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby, Interior Secretary Douglas McKay and Labor Secretary Martin Durkin.

However, several others are known to be anxious to get back into private life and it's a good bet that they will offer their resignations if Ike gets a second term in the White House.

Among these are Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks. Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and the new Welfare secretary, Marion Folsom.

Folsom wants to return to his position with the Eastman Kodak Company, Weeks is said to have tired of public life and its problems, and Wilson also is reported anxious to get back to General Motors.

There also have been reports that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles would like to retire, but the President is said to want his foreign policy chief to return. Also definitely certain of reappointment in a second-term cabinet are Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey and Attorney General Herbert Brownell. Other cabinet members also are expected to remain.

Hard Feelings

Political observers are convinced there is no prospect for a Stevenson-Kefauver ticket for the Democrats this year in the wake of the bristling Florida and California primary campaigns.

Although both aspirants for the Democratic presidential nomination maintained a surface friendship, both were stung by some of the other's statements in the heat of battle.

Stevenson was particularly ruffled by Kefauver assertion that he was conducting a "smile and smear" campaign, likening the 1952 nominee's attitude to that adopted by President Eisenhower toward Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Kefauver was angered by the statement of Stevenson supporter Millard Caldwell, former Florida governor, that the senator was a "sycophant" in his efforts to woo the Negro vote.

Sister's Role

Adlai Stevenson's sister, Mrs. Elizabeth S. (Buffie) Ives, is expected to play an increasing role in her brother's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Should Stevenson be elected President, Mrs. Ives undoubtedly would become his official White House hostess, since the former Illinois governor is unmarried. She would like nothing better.

Mrs. Ives also is considered a powerful political asset for her brother. Party officials noted that she received the warmest ovation at a recent Democratic women's luncheon when she was introduced along with the wives of some other possible candidates — including Mrs. Estes Kefauver, Mrs. Lyndon Johnson and Mrs. Stuart Symington.

In addition, she supplies Adlai with some of the "family atmosphere" which Stevenson would otherwise lack, since he is a divorced man. That, as any political expert will tell you, is mighty important.

Back Talk

Look for the Federal Reserve to backtrack on its tight money policy some time in the next few weeks. However, it will not be due to criticism of its action in April hiking interest rates charged banks for loans.

The Federal Reserve adjusts its policies to meet changing conditions, and now it faces a changed condition—business activity is slackening. Easing the supply of money by lowering the interest rate would be calculated to increase business investment, and thus speed up commercial activity of all kinds.

Brannan And Benson

The decision of former Agriculture Secretary Charles F. Brannan to run for the Senate from Colorado promises to throw the present secretary, Ezra Taft Benson, even deeper into the political wars.

Benson probably will do a lot of active campaigning against Brannan as the Republicans seek to stem Democratic efforts to win the crucial farm vote.

The two men often have been at odds over what they believe is best for American agriculture and you can look for their differences to become more violent between now and November.

Some Suntan Lotions May Sensitize Skin To Sun

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

For many years we have known that certain chemicals sensitize the skin to the rays of the sun. Cosmetics containing oil of bergamot, for example, are most troublesome along this line. A rash develops (photodermatitis) whenever the chemical is applied to an exposed surface. The latest offenders are—of all things—suntain lotions and protective creams.

Some individuals have a natural allergy to Old Sol. They develop stinging, itching, eczema, hives, or other forms of dermatitis on exposure to sunlight. The extremely sensitive may be affected in this way after staying in the midsummer sun for two minutes. These people seek the shady side of the street and never venture out unless protected with a wide brimmed hat or parasol.

The victim of photodermatitis also is sensitive but something must be applied to the skin first to bring out the sensitivity. Burning and tanning occur just as in anyone else.

But when photosensitizing chemicals are applied to the skin and the individual then goes out of doors, the exposed part of the body becomes discolored and breaks out into eczema or hives. It is mystifying to say the least, especially if cause and effect are not understood.

The first suggestion that certain suntan lotions were capable of sensitizing the skin came from Florida, where sunshine is plentiful and long exposure is possible. The patient in question decided she wanted to tan without burning and applied a lotion for that purpose.

After being out of doors too long she discovered that a rash was developing over the exposed skin. This reaction was similar to that of a person who is sensitive to the sun's rays except that she never had been affected this way before.

Dr. Wiley M. Sams of Miami saw several patients who responded to exposure in this way and decided to run patch tests on the skin to determine the cause. He started by exposing a small area to ultraviolet light. The skin tanned a little but otherwise nothing happened. This meant that the sun was not responsible.

Then he placed certain chemicals on little square pieces of gauze and fixed them to the skin. This is the usual test for contact dermatitis. The results were negative in that a rash failed to arise. But when he first applied a sun screening cream to the skin and then exposed the area to ultraviolet, an eruption developed.

In this respect he duplicated what milady had done prior to her sunbath. Although Dr. Sams has encountered many such cases, the number of photosensitive persons must be extremely small, considering the millions who apply sun lotions and creams before going to the beach.

TOMORROW: The driver's psychology.

FEELS DIZZY

Mrs. E. P. writes: I often feel like I'm going to fall over but get over it. Can you tell me why this happens?

REPLY

Examination would be necessary to determine the cause in your case. Dizziness is associated with a number of conditions varying from low blood pressure to Meniere's disease.

COLD INNARDS

M. H. writes: Why do my insides feel cold when I retire?

REPLY

OBSTRUCTED STOMACH

Mrs. V. writes: What causes pyloric stenosis in a newborn?

REPLY

INJURED NAIL

Mrs. A. writes: My young daughter caught her thumb in the door and the nail has turned black and blue. Will the black part grow out or will the nail fall off?

REPLY

The discoloration represents blood under the nail. Usually after such a mishap the nail becomes loose and may be shed. Meanwhile it continues to grow from the root and in time replaces the old nail.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

The day before Disneyland opened, Walt Disney discovered he had no swans for the moat outside the Fantasyland castle. Always the perfectionist, Disney talked Producer Mervyn LeRoy into driving to the Santa Anita racetrack and buying a few pairs of swans he remembered seeing there. The swans cost Disney $550 the pair for white swans, $750 the pair for black ones—but probably not a dozen people out of the thousands who stormed the gates on opening day even noticed the swank swans paddling about!

Dusty Rhodes, slugging outfielder of the New York Giants, was asked by a reporter what college he graduated from. "College?" chuckled Rhodes, "why, when they promoted me to the second grade in grammer school, I was so excited I didn't dare shave for a couple of days."

Chisox Circuit Clouts Defeat New York Yankees, 7 To 5

Ron Northey Smacks Pinch 3-Run Blast

Doby Also Hits For Distance; First Hose Win In 7 Contests

NEW YORK, June 13 (AP)—Larry Doby's first homer of the season helped the Chicago White Sox whip the New York Yankees for the first time in seven starts today 7-5 after Ron Northey hit a three-run pinch homer.

In the frantic battle of strategy between the opposing managers, a major league record was tied when a total of nine pinch hitters was used, six by the Yanks.

The record for pinch hitters was set in 1954 by Baltimore and Chicago in the American League and tied twice in the same season.

Luis Aparicio's single after Tommy Byrne's wildness loaded the bases in the seventh on a hit batsman and two walks clinched the decision for a long-frustrated Sox.

Howie Pollet, picked up as a free agent, cut loose and signed again, was the winner among four Chicago pitchers. The defeat was charged against Rip Coleman, second of five Yank pitchers starting with Bob Turley.

Five errors marred the game, played before 11,822 fans. The temperature in the press box reached 91 degrees.

Sloppy play by the White Sox that included a wild throw by Jim Rivera, a dropped foul by Dave Philley and an error by Aparicio on Elston Howard's ground ball, helped the Yanks score three in the third. Singles by Joe Collins and Mickey Mantle and two walks added to the troubles of starter Bob Keegan in the big Yank inning. Aparicio's error let two runs score.

Chicago, which had scored in the second on a walk, an error by Collins and singles by Philley and Aparicio, pulled ahead in the fourth on Northey's blow. A ground rules double by Fred Hatfield and a walk to Aparicio preceded the homer.

Team Meets Tonight

The West Side Social Club's softball team will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the club rooms on Paca Street.

COLLISION BRINGS ERROR—Chicago White Sox catcher Sherman Lollar looks in disgust as ball snaps out of his glove as first baseman Dave Philley, 6, collides with him as they both went after a foul pop fly in third inning of game with New York Yankees in Yankee Stadium yesterday. Philley was charged with error, but Sox went on to defeat Yanks for first time this year, 7-5. (AP Photofax)

Plunger Has Belmont Park Fans Agog With Big Bets

Californian Wagers Over $65,000 A Day

By PAT LYNCH
New York Journal-American Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 13 (INS) — Belmont Park racing fans are goggle-eyed witnesses these days to the biggest plunger in the history of pari-mutuel betting.

Roy W. Stovall, 60, a self-professed Los Angeles "real estate broker," has been shoving an estimated $65,000 a day into the mutuel machines under the awed gaze of hundreds of two-dollar bettors.

While plainclothes men and Pinkerton details guard Stovall, the corpulent Californian has stepped up to open-mouthed ticket sellers and bet as much as $25,000 a race with the same aplomb you would use dropping a token into a subway slot.

Stovall, who bet a reported $36,000 on the last two races alone on Monday, sees no cause for the commotion he is causing on swanky Belmont's clubhouse mezzanine. He has denied betting these huge sums, but they have been verified by this reporter.

"I'm just like any other bettor," he said. "I haven't any system. I dope the horses out myself and bet my money. I don't want any information. The jockeys don't know what's going on and I think the trainers know less."

Bets For "Kicks"

Stovall says he bets for "kicks." He is also hurt by reports that he tells ticket tellers to keep punching tickets until stopped by the bell.

Stovall may not tell the men behind the wickets to keep punching but, whatever it is, something is making clerks' index fingers look like the little Dutch boy's after plugging the leak in the dike.

Unlike the oldtime plungers, who bet hundreds of thousands in the books, Stovall is going against a takeout of over 15 per cent. Big betting in New York was stopped by the suicide inherent in the iron men's economics.

Stovall has been betting so much money, even on days when $3,000,000 is bet at Belmont Park, his wagering has made the choice time and again.

It is the late races which really get Stovall into a betting mood. The early ones he bets with disinterest. He'll often bet on them using hunches. For instance, in an early race last week, Jockey Bobby Stovall rode Fast Pass. Our friend couldn't let his namesake go, so he bet $1,500 across the board on Fast Pass. The latter finished third and went off at 3 to 2.

Monday was one of Stovall's biggest betting days. After toying with the first two races, he bet on four straight winners, getting back a reported $53,000 from the cashiers.

Summer Tan Was Choice

Stovall then stepped out. Summer Tan, the outstanding colt which hadn't been to the races since finishing third to Swaps in the Kentucky Derby, was the choice in the seventh race. By the time Stovall got through, Summer Tan went off at 13 to 20.

It was reliably reported that he bet $12,000 on Summer Tan.

Summer Tan took the lead in the stretch. Eddie Arcaro started flailing Red Hannigan and beat the favorite by a half length.

For the eighth race, Stovall really sent it in. This reporter watched him bet. While the crowd watched excitedly, he whipped out a roll of $100 bills big enough to gag the horses he was betting on. After he demolished one bankroll, he produced another. Beads of sweat were on the clerk's brow. He punched the machine with the rapidity of a Hurricane Jackson as Stovall fingered the layers of disgorged tickets. Stovall exchanged banter with his public, enjoying it all.

It was confirmed by this reporter that Stovall bet $24,000 on the even-money favorites, the entry of Better Willow and Elenem.

Cubs Continue Pace, Edge Giants

CHICAGO, June 13 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs continued their June revival today when, helped along by three New York errors, they beat the Giants 6-5 before 10,141 fans.

The three New York miscues gave the Cubs their first five runs —all unearned.

It was the Cubs' 10th win in their last 13 games—in which period they have jumped from the cellar to sixth place in the National League, a game and a half ahead of the Giants.

The Cubs thus swept a two-game series with the New Yorkers.

Don Muller's two-out double and the first of two Willie Mays homers gave the Giants a 2-0 lead in the first. Mays got his second homer of the game and seventh of the season, a bases' empty poke, to open the fourth.

Barrelville Registers 8th Pen Mar Win

Beats Grantsville, Flintstone Drops 10th

PEN-MAR LEAGUE

Barrelville's league-leading tossers pounced on Junie Perry early and went on to register their eighth victory in nine Pen Mar League games yesterday, 13-7, at Grantsville.

In other loop encounters Hyndman pushed across seven runs in the seventh inning to break a 3-3 deadlock to defeat Mt. Savage, 10-3, and Flintstone absorbed its 10th straight setback at the hands of Centerville, 7-1.

George McGregor went the distance for Barrelville although tagged for 12 hits by Grantsville. Junie Perry ran into a streak of wildness for the home team and was slugged for five hits, five walks and a hit batsman before retiring in the third inning in favor of Kitzmiller. He was trailing 5-2 and suffered the defeat.

Brant Gets Five Hits

Ronnie Cage with two singles and Bob Brant with a triple and four singles in five trips paced the Barrelville attack. Perry had two one-base knocks and a two-bagger and Bill See had a pair of doubles for Grantsville.

The loss dropped Grantsville into fifth place behind Centerville.

The Reds handed Flintstone its 10th defeat without a victory as Manager Charley Doyle's tossers could get only five hits off the slants of Milt Rose and Glen Deremer.

Frank Smith engaged in a hurling duel with Rose and Deremer until the eighth when Centerville tagged him for six consecutive hits with two out and scored five runs. Flintstone was trailing 2-1 at the time.

Centerville's first two runs came in the first inning when Glen Streett tripled, Veryle Nave was hit by a pitch and stole second and Dave Rose singled both runners home.

Streett Hits Three-Bagger

Streett had a three-bagger and single, Nave had a double and single and Gary Reeder chipped in with a pair of singles to pace the Centerville assault. Flintstone obtained only five scattered singles, three off Rose in five frames and two off Deremer in the final four innings.

Hyndman shelled Bobby Dawson from the mound with a seven-run seventh inning to break a 3-3 tie and defeat Mt. Savage at Hyndman.

The victors cracked out 15 hits with five singles and Bob Cook's double sparking the big seventh inning. Bob See gained the verdict after relieving Jim Leydig in the fourth frame. Archie Lennox sent Leydig to the showers by belting a bases-empty home run over the left field fence, 325 feet away from home plate.

Gene Stair and Bob Cook each had a pair of two-baggers and a brace of singles in five trips to the plate. Dick Emerick had a triple and one-base blow for Hyndman. The scores:

Sigel, Peskin Post First Flight Wins

Dave Sigel and Mort Peskin Jr. posted first flight victories in the men's spring handicap golf tournament at the Cumberland Country Club.

Sigel defeated L. W. Brown, 2 and 1, Sunday while Peskin was returned the victor over Dr. Frank Leger, 2 and 1, Tuesday. In second flight matches yesterday Charles Zembower defeated Dick Leonard, 4 and 3, and John Mosner turned back P. E. Berry, 3 and 1.

HURLS NO-HITTER — Donald Nave, 13-year-old righthander, of the Times-News team holds the distinction of twirling the first no-run, no-hit game of the season in the Hot Stove League. The 150-pound lad turned back the Lions Club on Sunday by the score of 9-0. He is a son of Alton "Bee" Nave, of Centerville, Pa., who posted a 7-0 record for Allegany High's undefeated nine (11-0) in 1934 and played sandlot ball for many years as a catcher, pitcher and infielder. Donald won 11 and lost 2 in two seasons with the Athletics in the Dapper Dan Little League. In 1954 his record was 4-0 and he struck out 44. Last year he won 7 and lost 2 and fanned 68. In Sunday's contest he whiffed 17.

Bosox, Tribe Play 8-8 Tie

Game Called After 11th By Rainstorm

BOSTON, June 13 (AP) — Boston and Cleveland battled for nearly four hours in an 8-8 tie today before a storm complete with rain, hail and lightning ended play.

Cleveland's Al Rosen was the leadoff batter in the 12th with a count of 1-2 when umpire in chief Ed Rommel called time. After a lapse of 33 minutes, Rommel called it quits.

Boston's Jackie Jensen actually forced the action into overtime with a tremendous bases-loaded triple into the right field corner in the fourth inning. The hit accounted for three of Jensen's four RBI's on a day in which Jackie also contributed an additional three singles in six trips.

Maxwell Hits Homer, Detroit Beats Birds 2-0

Clout Spoils One-Hit Effort By Billy Loes

BALTIMORE, June 13 (AP) — Charley Maxwell socked a home run in the ninth inning today to wrap up a 2-0 victory for Detroit and spoil the sparkling one-hit performance Billy Loes turned in for Baltimore in the first six innings.

Maxwell's 11th circuit clout of the season came with Wayne Belardi on base as the result of a single. George Zuverink, who relieved Loes in the seventh, yielded the home run pitch.

Loes had struck out five and walked but one in his first start since being bought May 14 by Baltimore from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Zuverink was touched for four hits to take his second defeat against three victories. Steve Gromek, who releived starter Paul Foytack for the Tigers in the eighth, got credit for his fifth triumph against three defeats.

Beacham Scores Hole-In-One At Country Club

James Beacham, local real estate man and long-time member of the Cumberland Country Club, yesterday scored the first ace of the year on the CCC golf course.

Using a No. 6 iron on the par-3 No. 10 hole, Beacham cracked the 147-yard distance in one stroke while playing in a foursome with Max Bastian, Dr. H. B. Wood and George Garlitz. He finished the par-70, 18-hole round in a 76.

It marked the first ace on the local course since assistant pro Dick Buskey dumped one on the No. 1 hole on September 9, 1954. There were 5 aces that year with Pro Carroll Boggs, C. S. Catherman Jr., Charles Smith and Clifton Van Roby joining in the festivities. Buskey, Roby and Boggs connected for their aces on the 228-year No. 1 hole.

Beacham's ace yesterday marked the first since he hit for a hole-in-one on No. 10 in 1938.

Chisox Circuit Clouts Defeat New York Yankees, 7 To 5

Doby Also Hits For Distance; First Hose Win In 7 Contests

NEW YORK, June 13 (AP)—Larry Doby's first homer of the season helped the Chicago White Sox whip the New York Yankees for the first time in seven starts today 7-5 after Ron Northey hit a three-run pinch homer.

In the frantic battle of strategy between the opposing managers, a major league record was tied when a total of nine pinch hitters was used, six by the Yanks.

The record for pinch hitters was set in 1954 by Baltimore and Chicago in the American League and tied twice in the same season.

Luis Aparicio's single after Tommy Byrne's wildness loaded the bases in the seventh on a hit batsman and two walks clinched the decision for a long-frustrated Sox.

Howie Pollet, picked up as a free agent, cut loose and signed again, was the winner among four Chicago pitchers. The defeat was charged against Rip Coleman, second of five Yank pitchers starting with Bob Turley.

Five errors marred the game, played before 11,822 fans. The temperature in the press box reached 91 degrees.

Sloppy play by the White Sox that included a wild throw by Jim Rivera, a dropped foul by Dave Philley and an error by Aparicio on Elston Howard's ground ball, helped the Yanks score three in the third. Singles by Joe Collins and Mickey Mantle and two walks added to the troubles of starter Bob Keegan in the big Yank inning. Aparicio's error let two runs score.

Chicago, which had scored in the second on a walk, an error by Collins and singles by Philley and Aparicio, pulled ahead in the fourth on Northey's blow. A ground rules double by Fred Hatfield and a walk to Aparicio preceded the homer.

Plunger Has Belmont Park Fans Agog With Big Bets

Californian Wagers Over $65,000 A Day

By PAT LYNCH
New York Journal-American Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 13 (INS) — Belmont Park racing fans are goggle-eyed witnesses these days to the biggest plunger in the history of pari-mutuel betting.

Roy W. Stovall, 60, a self-professed Los Angeles "real estate broker," has been shoving an estimated $65,000 a day into the mutuel machines under the awed gaze of hundreds of two-dollar bettors.

While plainclothes men and Pinkerton details guard Stovall, the corpulent Californian has stepped up to open-mouthed ticket sellers and bet as much as $25,000 a race with the same aplomb you would use dropping a token into a subway slot.

Stovall, who bet a reported $36,000 on the last two races alone on Monday, sees no cause for the commotion he is causing on swanky Belmont's clubhouse mezzanine. He has denied betting these huge sums, but they have been verified by this reporter.

"I'm just like any other bettor," he said. "I haven't any system. I dope the horses out myself and bet my money. I don't want any information. The jockeys don't know what's going on and I think the trainers know less."

Bets For "Kicks"

Stovall says he bets for "kicks." He is also hurt by reports that he tells ticket tellers to keep punching tickets until stopped by the bell.

Stovall may not tell the men behind the wickets to keep punching but, whatever it is, something is making clerks' index fingers look like the little Dutch boy's after plugging the leak in the dike.

Unlike the oldtime plungers, who bet hundreds of thousands in the books, Stovall is going against a takeout of over 15 per cent. Big betting in New York was stopped by the suicide inherent in the iron men's economics.

Stovall has been betting so much money, even on days when $3,000,000 is bet at Belmont Park, his wagering has made the choice time and again.

It is the late races which really get Stovall into a betting mood. The early ones he bets with disinterest. He'll often bet on them using hunches. For instance, in an early race last week, Jockey Bobby Stovall rode Fast Pass. Our friend couldn't let his namesake go, so he bet $1,500 across the board on Fast Pass. The latter finished third and went off at 3 to 2.

Monday was one of Stovall's biggest betting days. After toying with the first two races, he bet on four straight winners, getting back a reported $53,000 from the cashiers.

Summer Tan Was Choice

Stovall then stepped out. Summer Tan, the outstanding colt which hadn't been to the races since finishing third to Swaps in the Kentucky Derby, was the choice in the seventh race. By the time Stovall got through, Summer Tan went off at 13 to 20.

It was reliably reported that he bet $12,000 on Summer Tan.

Summer Tan took the lead in the stretch. Eddie Arcaro started flailing Red Hannigan and beat the favorite by a half length.

For the eighth race, Stovall really sent it in. This reporter watched him bet. While the crowd watched excitedly, he whipped out a roll of $100 bills big enough to gag the horses he was betting on. After he demolished one bankroll, he produced another. Beads of sweat were on the clerk's brow. He punched the machine with the rapidity of a Hurricane Jackson as Stovall fingered the layers of disgorged tickets. Stovall exchanged banter with his public, enjoying it all.

It was confirmed by this reporter that Stovall bet $24,000 on the even-money favorites, the entry of Better Willow and Elenem.

Athletics Barrage Beats Nats, 13-4

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP) — Kansas City vacated the American League basement with a 21-hit barrage against four Washington pitchers today. Tim Thompson and Vic Power each collected five hits as the Athletics mauled the Senators 13-4.

Harry Simpson supplied four hits, while Hector Lopez chipped in with a home run, double and single. Gus Zernial also homered for the A's, who pushed the Senators into the cellar.

Barrelville's league-leading tossers pounced on Junie Perry early and went on to register their eighth victory in nine Pen Mar League games yesterday, 13-7, at Grantsville.

In other loop encounters Hyndman pushed across seven runs in the seventh inning to break a 3-3 deadlock to defeat Mt. Savage, 10-3, and Flintstone absorbed its 10th straight setback at the hands of Centerville, 7-1.

George McGregor went the distance for Barrelville although tagged for 12 hits by Grantsville. Junie Perry ran into a streak of wildness for the home team and was slugged for five hits, five walks and a hit batsman before retiring in the third inning in favor of Kitzmiller. He was trailing 5-2 and suffered the defeat.

Brant Gets Five Hits

Ronnie Cage with two singles and Bob Brant with a triple and four singles in five trips paced the Barrelville attack. Perry had two one-base knocks and a two-bagger and Bill See had a pair of doubles for Grantsville.

The loss dropped Grantsville into fifth place behind Centerville.

The Reds handed Flintstone its 10th defeat without a victory as Manager Charley Doyle's tossers could get only five hits off the slants of Milt Rose and Glen Deremer.

Frank Smith engaged in a hurling duel with Rose and Deremer until the eighth when Centerville tagged him for six consecutive hits with two out and scored five runs. Flintstone was trailing 2-1 at the time.

Centerville's first two runs came in the first inning when Glen Streett tripled, Veryle Nave was hit by a pitch and stole second and Dave Rose singled both runners home.

Streett Hits Three-Bagger

Streett had a three-bagger and single, Nave had a double and single and Gary Reeder chipped in with a pair of singles to pace the Centerville assault. Flintstone obtained only five scattered singles, three off Rose in five frames and two off Deremer in the final four innings.

Hyndman shelled Bobby Dawson from the mound with a seven-run seventh inning to break a 3-3 tie and defeat Mt. Savage at Hyndman.

The victors cracked out 15 hits with five singles and Bob Cook's double sparking the big seventh inning. Bob See gained the verdict after relieving Jim Leydig in the fourth frame. Archie Lennox sent Leydig to the showers by belting a bases-empty home run over the left field fence, 325 feet away from home plate.

Gene Stair and Bob Cook each had a pair of two-baggers and a brace of singles in five trips to the plate. Dick Emerick had a triple and one-base blow for Hyndman. The scores:

Cubs Continue Pace, Edge Giants

CHICAGO, June 13 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs continued their June revival today when, helped along by three New York errors, they beat the Giants 6-5 before 10,141 fans.

The three New York miscues gave the Cubs their first five runs—all unearned.

It was the Cubs' 10th win in their last 13 games—in which period they have jumped from the cellar to sixth place in the National League, a game and a half ahead of the Giants.

The Cubs thus swept a two-game series with the New Yorkers.

Don Muller's two-out double and the first of two Willie Mays homers gave the Giants a 2-0 lead in the first. Mays got his second homer of the game and seventh of the season, a bases' empty poke, to open the fourth.

HURLS NO-HITTER — Donald Nave, 13-year-old righthander, of the Times-News team holds the distinction of twirling the first no-run, no-hit game of the season in the Hot Stove League. The 150-pound lad turned back the Lions Club on Sunday by the score of 9-0. He is a son of Alton "Bee" Nave, of Centerville, Pa., who posted a 7-0 record for Allegany High's undefeated nine (11-0) in 1934 and played sandlot ball for many years as a catcher, pitcher and infielder. Donald won 11 and lost 2 in two seasons with the Athletics in the Dapper Dan Little League. In 1954 his record was 4-0 and he struck out 44. Last year he won 7 and lost 2 and fanned 68. In Sunday's contest he whiffed 17.

Bosox, Tribe Play 8-8 Tie

Game Called After 11th By Rainstorm

BOSTON, June 13 (AP) — Boston and Cleveland battled for nearly four hours in an 8-8 tie today before a storm complete with rain, hail and lightning ended play.

Cleveland's Al Rosen was the leadoff batter in the 12th with a count of 1-2 when umpire in chief Ed Rommel called time. After a lapse of 33 minutes, Rommel called it quits.

Boston's Jackie Jensen actually forced the action into overtime with a tremendous bases-loaded triple into the right field corner in the fourth inning. The hit accounted for three of Jensen's four RBI's on a day in which Jackie also contributed an additional three singles in six trips.

Maxwell Hits Homer, Detroit Beats Birds 2-0

Clout Spoils One-Hit Effort By Billy Loes

BALTIMORE, June 13 (AP) — Charley Maxwell socked a home run in the ninth inning today to wrap up a 2-0 victory for Detroit and spoil the sparkling one-hit performance Billy Loes turned in for Baltimore in the first six innings.

Maxwell's 11th circuit clout of the season came with Wayne Belardi on base as the result of a single. George Zuverink, who relieved Loes in the seventh, yielded the home run pitch.

Loes had struck out five and walked but one in his first start since being bought May 14 by Baltimore from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Zuverink was touched for four hits to take his second defeat against three victories. Steve Gromek, who releived starter Paul Foytack for the Tigers in the eighth, got credit for his fifth triumph against three defeats.

Beacham Scores Hole-In-One At Country Club

James Beacham, local real estate man and long-time member of the Cumberland Country Club, yesterday scored the first ace of the year on the CCC golf course.

Using a No. 6 iron on the par-3 No. 10 hole, Beacham cracked the 147-yard distance in one stroke while playing in a foursome with Max Bastian, Dr. H. B. Wood and George Garlitz. He finished the par-70, 18-hole round in a 76.

It marked the first ace on the local course since assistant pro Dick Buskey dumped one on the No. 1 hole on September 9, 1954. There were 5 aces that year with Pro Carroll Boggs, C. S. Catherman Jr., Charles Smith and Clifton Van Roby joining in the festivities. Buskey, Roby and Boggs connected for their aces on the 228-year No. 1 hole.

Montchannin Series Led By Anne's Love

Westrope Up On Delaware Winner

STANTON, Del., June 13 (AP)—Anne's Love, a 6-year-old stretch runner owned by Miss Anne Uhlar and ridden by veteran Jack Westrope, got up in the last few strides today to win the third in the series of Montchannin Handicaps at Delaware Park.

Carrying top weight of 124 pounds, Anne's Love was favored in the field of eight, and was timed in 2:04 3/5 while wearing down Weap and Wail by a neck in the mile and quarter test.

Third position went to Kope's Hope, two and a half lengths back, while I Geegee was fourth.

A crowd of 12,564, which included Delaware's Gov. J. Caleb Boggs, was on hand. Anne's Love paid $5.20, $4, and $3. Weep and Wail returned $5.20 and $3.20 while Kope's Hope paid $3.80 for third.

The sixth race today was named for Boggs, and the governor presented a sterling silver cigarette box to Jockey Eldon Nelson after he won the race named for the governor on Miss Wilma. It was Nelson's third winner of the afternoon. He is the leading jockey of the 15-day meeting with 14 victories.

The Montchannin series is run each Wednesday with purses and distances increased each time. The fifth and final of the series will be for a purse of $5,500 at a mile and six furlongs. Points are awarded on the basis of 24 for a first, 12 for a second, 6 for a 3rd and 3 for a 4th.

Anne's Love now leads the series with 51 points, followed by weep and wail with 48, Kope's Hope and I Geegee with 9. The final point winner gets an extra award.

Weary Hogan, Angry Snead Favored In National Open

Sam's Caddie Taken From Him, Causes Note Of Discord

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 13 (AP)—A weary Ben Hogan and a highly agitated Sam Snead face the challenge of golf's new young guard again tomorrow in the first round of the 56th National Open championship.

Most of the field of 162—134 pros and 28 amateurs—as if by habit looked apprehensively in the direction of Hogan, the phlegmatic little four-time champion from Texas, although he is 43, semi-retired and, he says, "dead tired."

"I've been working too hard for this tournament," Ben said after playing nine holes of the 6,902-yard, par 70 Oak Hill course. "I'm awfully tired and I'm not playing well at all."

Snead Is Mad

Hogan's longtime adversary, 44-year-old Sam Snead, who is the greatest golfer never to win this blue ribbon classic, wasn't tired—he was just mad.

Snead's caddy, an aged Negro named Jimmy Steed, was suddenly snatched from him this morning by the U.S. Golf Assn. and the slammer was assigned a castoff bag-toter who had been fired by defending champion Jack Fleck.

"They had no right to do that" complained Snead. "I've had this fellow all week and now I get a new man. What do they care who caddies for who?"

The USGA said the move was made because Steed, a caddy who has worked for Snead off and on for 22 years, was assigned contrary to regulations. Rules require that caddies be drawn from blind pools. Steed, who came here specifically to work for his old boss, got the job as an alternate when Snead dismissed his original bag-carrier.

"Somebody snitched on me and I think I know who it is," said Sam. "It was a former champion." He didn't name names.

The caddy rhubarb provided the first discordant note of a tournament which has been called the "sweetness and light open" because of the general happiness of the tournament toughies who usually gripe over the USGA's "souped up" championship courses.

Almost to the man, they term the rolling Oak Hill layout a "tough but true test of golf."

"Nobody can have any alibis on this one," said Cary Middlecoff, the 1949 champion. "I look for a wide open tournament, a free-for-all with eight or ten guys in a position to win."

Hogan Enters Dissent

Only Hogan, the marvelous marksman who fares better on tightened courses, has entered a dissent. He has said the course should be tougher. The fairways are 10 to 15 yards wider than usual and the rough not nearly up to its usual nightmarish toughness.

Hogan and Snead were the choices of both the Oak Hill gallery and the players as the "men to beat" despite the rise of a new generation of golf precisionists who have dominated the tour.

Gene Littler, 25, and Mike Souchak, 29, are the chief of the new threats. The cold, methodical Littler is the leading money winner with $17,373.92 and comes here riding a hot streak which won him the Wykagyl round robin last week. Souchak, the former Duke football player, has Snead's power, plus youth.

Stable Fire, Rainstorm Threatens Olympic Games

U.S. Horse Team Is Disqualified

STOCKHOLM, June 13 (AP) — A flash stable fire, rainstorm and severe injuries to horses and riders brought high drama and a threat of disaster today to the equestrian Olympic Games.

The fire, which started in a pile of hay, spread throughout a big, red brick training building in the stable area where more than 200 Olympic horses worth a million dollars were quartered.

Dozens of horses were evacuated to safety and none was reported injured although many had narrow escapes.

The blaze came a few hours after completion of the second day of the three-day trial, during which the American team was disqualified and three daredevil Englishmen and a tough Swede took the leads in the competition for the first gold medal.

In addition to the United States, teams from 10 other countries were disqualified when at least one of their riders did not complete the 21¾-mile course made muddy and treacherous by overnight rain.

Maj. Jonathan R. Burton, 36, Berwyn, Ill., was thrown at the finish and was taken to the hospital for head X-rays. Early reports said he suffered a concussion.

Frank Duffy of Birmingham, Mich., a University of Michigan student, fell at the third barrier and withdrew, although he wasn't hurt.

Although the U.S. team was disqualified, Walter G. Staley of Mexico, Mo., had one of the best rides of the day on Mud Dauber and vaulted from 56th place in the individual standings to 10th with a point score of 134.57.

The Britons improved their team lead and Sweden's Petrus Kastenman took the individual lead with 46.53 penalty points in the dangerous and demanding endurance test of the three-day.

Lt. Col. Frank Weldon, a rugged little artillery man, was Britain's best. He rode Kilbarry and had only 85.48 penalty points after the endurance and dressage sections. Other Britons were: Laurence Rook, 105.89 and Bert Hill, 140.11.

The team score was 331.1. Other team leaders were Germany 402.91, Canada 532.72, Australia 578.0, Italy 641.41 and Russia 1,032.33. Ireland was high in the running until a rider missed a fence at the end of a good run and disqualified his team.

Kastenman's 46.53 points were considered as low a score as any rider ever could expect to make in such nasty conditions.

Whitney Entry Runs One-Two

Snow White Cops Stallion Stakes

ELMONT, N. Y., June 13 (AP)—The C. V. Whitney entry of Snow White and Defiliade ran one, two in capturing the $38,920 filly division of the National Stallion Stakes for 2-year-olds at Belmont Park today.

Snow White and Defilade are both daughters of Counterpoint, the former by White Lady and the latter by Enfilade. Eddie Arcaro rode Snow White to a neck victory over the stablemate. Then there was a gap of four and a half lengths to the Bill Beasley Stable's Petite Terry, who took the show end of the purse by a length over Mrs. John W. Galbreath's Volley.

It was the third victory of the day for Arcaro, who spreadeagles the field in the race for riding honors with a total of 33.

Mrs. Galbreath's Little Skipper led in the early part of the five furlong dash down the Widener straightaway course with Joseph M. Roebling's Candlelight in closest pursuit. Snow White was fifth at the quarter, but started to move and joined by her stablemate, ridden by Hedley Woodhouse, swept by the field with ease.

The clocking was a moderate 57 2/5.

Montchannin Series Led By Anne's Love

Westrope Up On Delaware Winner

STANTON, Del., June 13 (AP)—Anne's Love, a 6-year-old stretch runner owned by Miss Anne Uhlar and ridden by veteran Jack Westrope, got up in the last few strides today to win the third in the series of Montchannin Handicaps at Delaware Park.

Carrying top weight of 124 pounds, Anne's Love was favored in the field of eight, and was timed in 2:04 3/5 while wearing down Weap and Wail by a neck in the mile and quarter test.

Third position went to Kope's Hope, two and a half lengths back, while I Geegee was fourth.

A crowd of 12,564, which included Delaware's Gov. J. Caleb Boggs, was on hand. Anne's Love paid $5.20, $4, and $3. Weep and Wail returned $5.20 and $3.20 while Kope's Hope paid $3.80 for third.

The sixth race today was named for Boggs, and the governor presented a sterling silver cigarette box to Jockey Eldon Nelson after he won the race named for the governor on Miss Wilma. It was Nelson's third winner of the afternoon. He is the leading jockey of the 15-day meeting with 14 victories.

The Montchannin series is run each Wednesday with purses and distances increased each time. The fifth and final of the series will be for a purse of $5,500 at a mile and six furlongs. Points are awarded on the basis of 24 for a first, 12 for a second, 6 for a 3rd and 3 for a 4th.

Anne's Love now leads the series with 51 points, followed by weep and wail with 48, Kope's Hope and I Geegee with 9. The final point winner gets an extra award.

Weary Hogan, Angry Snead Favored In National Open

Sam's Caddie Taken From Him, Causes Note Of Discord

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 13 (AP)—A weary Ben Hogan and a highly agitated Sam Snead face the challenge of golf's new young guard again tomorrow in the first round of the 56th National Open championship.

Most of the field of 162—134 pros and 28 amateurs—as if by habit looked apprehensively in the direction of Hogan, the phlegmatic little four-time champion from Texas, although he is 43, semi-retired and, he says, "dead tired."

"I've been working too hard for this tournament," Ben said after playing nine holes of the 6,902-yard, par 70 Oak Hill course. "I'm awfully tired and I'm not playing well at all."

Snead Is Mad

Hogan's longtime adversary, 44-year-old Sam Snead, who is the greatest golfer never to win this blue ribbon classic, wasn't tired—he was just mad.

Snead's caddy, an aged Negro named Jimmy Steed, was suddenly snatched from him this morning by the U.S. Golf Assn. and the slammer was assigned a castoff bag-toter who had been fired by defending champion Jack Fleck.

"They had no right to do that" complained Snead. "I've had this fellow all week and now I get a new man. What do they care who caddies for who?"

The USGA said the move was made because Steed, a caddy who has worked for Snead off and on for 22 years, was assigned contrary to regulations. Rules require that caddies be drawn from blind pools. Steed, who came here specifically to work for his old boss, got the job as an alternate when Snead dismissed his original bag-carrier.

"Somebody snitched on me and I think I know who it is," said Sam. "It was a former champion." He didn't name names.

The caddy rhubarb provided the first discordant note of a tournament which has been called the "sweetness and light open" because of the general happiness of the tournament toughies who usually gripe over the USGA's "souped up" championship courses.

"Nobody can have any alibis on this one," said Cary Middlecoff, the 1949 champion. "I look for a wide open tournament, a free-for-all with eight or ten guys in a position to win."

Hogan Enters Dissent

Only Hogan, the marvelous marksman who fares better on tightened courses, has entered a dissent. He has said the course should be tougher. The fairways are 10 to 15 yards wider than usual and the rough not nearly up to its usual nightmarish toughness.

Hogan and Snead were the choices of both the Oak Hill gallery and the players as the "men to beat" despite the rise of a new generation of golf precisionists who have dominated the tour.

Gene Littler, 25, and Mike Souchak, 29, are the chief of the new threats. The cold, methodical Littler is the leading money winner with $17,373.92 and comes here riding a hot streak which won him the Wykagyl round robin last week. Souchak, the former Duke football player, has Snead's power, plus youth.

Stable Fire, Rainstorm Threatens Olympic Games

U.S. Horse Team Is Disqualified

STOCKHOLM, June 13 (AP) — A flash stable fire, rainstorm and severe injuries to horses and riders brought high drama and a threat of disaster today to the equestrian Olympic Games.

The fire, which started in a pile of hay, spread throughout a big, red brick training building in the stable area where more than 200 Olympic horses worth a million dollars were quartered.

The blaze came a few hours after completion of the second day of the three-day trial, during which the American team was disqualified and three daredevil Englishmen and a tough Swede took the leads in the competition for the first gold medal.

In addition to the United States, teams from 10 other countries were disqualified when at least one of their riders did not complete the 21¾-mile course made muddy and treacherous by overnight rain.

Maj. Jonathan R. Burton, 36, Berwyn, Ill., was thrown at the finish and was taken to the hospital for head X-rays. Early reports said he suffered a concussion.

Although the U.S. team was disqualified, Walter G. Staley of Mexico, Mo., had one of the best rides of the day on Mud Dauber and vaulted from 56th place in the individual standings to 10th with a point score of 134.57.

The Britons improved their team lead and Sweden's Petrus Kastenman took the individual lead with 46.53 penalty points in the dangerous and demanding endurance test of the three-day.

Lt. Col. Frank Weldon, a rugged little artillery man, was Britain's best. He rode Kilbarry and had only 85.48 penalty points after the endurance and dressage sections. Other Britons were: Laurence Rook, 105.89 and Bert Hill, 140.11.

The team score was 331.1. Other team leaders were Germany 402.91, Canada 532.72, Australia 578.0, Italy 641.41 and Russia 1,032.33. Ireland was high in the running until a rider missed a fence at the end of a good run and disqualified his team.

Kastenman's 46.53 points were considered as low a score as any rider ever could expect to make in such nasty conditions.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 13 (INS) — A bad cold and her divorce from David Foster delayed Glynis Johns arrival in our town to star in "The Day They Gave Babies Away."

"I finally arrived here with my mother," said Glynis, "and I want to stay a long time. I love Hollywood! I have six children in 'The Day They Gave Babies Away' and I wear maternity dresses. You know, they say you never should be in a picture with animals or children because they're such scene stealers, and the little boy's part, played by young Rex Thompson, is much better than either Cameron Mitchell's or mine," laughed Glynis, who didn't seem too much disturbed about it.

June Haver and Fred MacMurray who had to cancel plans to attend the Cannes film festival now have to call off the Berlin festival for the same reason — a job for Fred. Business before pleasure pays off, and Ed Muhl has cast Fred in "Quantez," a western by R. Wright Campbell, brother of Actor William Campbell.

In "Quantez," Fred plays a reformed gunman. His last picture for U-I, also a western, "Gun for a Coward," was written by Campbell, too. "Quantez" starts July 8 and Fred has already checked in on the lot for discussions with scripter Sidney Sheldon and producer Robert Smith.

Love the crack Frank Sinatra made to Mrs. Bill Perlberg when she saw him in Spain. He said he's so lonesome for America he'll never leave it again, even to collect an inheritance!

Speaking of Bill Holden, Mrs. Perlberg tells me that he and Ray Ryan couldn't get passports for Moscow so they have rented a boat in Oslo to fish. The Perlbergs saw Holden, who flew from Stockholm to Copenhagen just to have luncheon with them, which is a pretty nice friendship I'd say.

The movie aunt and uncle who raised Eddy Duchin's son Peter after the first Mrs. Duchin died, in real life are Governor and Mrs. Averell Harriman of New York. Both Averell and Mary adored Peter when he was a little boy and raised him as their own. Naturally, they'll attend the premiere of "The Eddy Duchin Story," on June 21 in New York. Right now, Governor Harriman is much in the public eye as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

Casey Robinson's 21-year-old daughter, Pamela Date Robinson, was married Saturday to Bruce Graham Locke, Los Angeles socialite.

Gig Young is so in love with Elizabeth Montgomery, Robert's beauty, that he's sold all his furniture and will move to New York to be near her.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 13 (INS) — A bad cold and her divorce from David Foster delayed Glynis Johns arrival in our town to star in "The Day They Gave Babies Away."

"I finally arrived here with my mother," said Glynis, "and I want to stay a long time. I love Hollywood! I have six children in 'The Day They Gave Babies Away' and I wear maternity dresses. You know, they say you never should be in a picture with animals or children because they're such scene stealers, and the little boy's part, played by young Rex Thompson, is much better than either Cameron Mitchell's or mine," laughed Glynis, who didn't seem too much disturbed about it.

June Haver and Fred MacMurray who had to cancel plans to attend the Cannes film festival now have to call off the Berlin festival for the same reason — a job for Fred. Business before pleasure pays off, and Ed Muhl has cast Fred in "Quantez," a western by R. Wright Campbell, brother of Actor William Campbell.

In "Quantez," Fred plays a reformed gunman. His last picture for U-I, also a western, "Gun for a Coward," was written by Campbell, too. "Quantez" starts July 8 and Fred has already checked in on the lot for discussions with scripter Sidney Sheldon and producer Robert Smith.

Love the crack Frank Sinatra made to Mrs. Bill Perlberg when she saw him in Spain. He said he's so lonesome for America he'll never leave it again, even to collect an inheritance!

The Perlbergs just returned from five weeks in Europe, where Bill did some exploitation for "The Proud and Profane," his most recent picture in which everyone says William Holden looks like a young Clark Gable.

Speaking of Bill Holden, Mrs. Perlberg tells me that he and Ray Ryan couldn't get passports for Moscow so they have rented a boat in Oslo to fish. The Perlbergs saw Holden, who flew from Stockholm to Copenhagen just to have luncheon with them, which is a pretty nice friendship I'd say.

The movie aunt and uncle who raised Eddy Duchin's son Peter after the first Mrs. Duchin died, in real life are Governor and Mrs. Averell Harriman of New York. Both Averell and Mary adored Peter when he was a little boy and raised him as their own. Naturally, they'll attend the premiere of "The Eddy Duchin Story," on June 21 in New York. Right now, Governor Harriman is much in the public eye as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

"The Eddy Duchin Story" is a fine picture, although I don't remember Eddy ever having bitterness toward his child, as is shown by Tyrone Power in the film. Eddy left the boy with the Harrimans because he had to be on the road with his orchestra so much, and he felt Peter needed a home. He was a very delicate child in his early years.

Casey Robinson's 21-year-old daughter, Pamela Date Robinson, was married Saturday to Bruce Graham Locke, Los Angeles socialite.

Gig Young is so in love with Elizabeth Montgomery, Robert's beauty, that he's sold all his furniture and will move to New York to be near her.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

The bidding:

Opening lead—queen of clubs.

South won the club lead and led the jack of spades which lost to the queen. East returned a club, and declarer won it. Another trump drove out the ace. The defense then won a club and a heart, and North-South were 50 points poorer. South had considered at great length when he led the first trump whether it was better to put up dummy's king, or to let the jack ride. His thinking, however, was in the wrong channels.

The first item to which a declarer should give his attention when he is playing in a suit contract is the number of losers. In doing so, he starts by taking the worst view, which means in this case that there are two trump losers, a heart and a club. Since this eventuality leads to loss of the contract, the next step is to investigate means of reducing the number of losers. The heart loser is unavoidable, but one of the trump losers may be cut off if the defenders' cards are favorably placed. Also, the club loser may vanish if dummy's king of hearts is established for a discard.

The two possible ways to save a trick are then compared to see whether the order of play is important. Immediately it becomes evident that the heart play cannot wait, because if the adversaries are allowed to come into the lead with a trump, they will establish their club trick before declarer can utilize his heart discard. Furthermore, if one of the trump losers can be eliminated, it can be done just as effectively later in the play. The question of timing in this hand therefore assumes prime importance.

The correct play is to lead a heart at trick two. If West wins and leads back a club, South takes it, cashes his other heart, and crosses to dummy's queen of diamonds. The club is discarded on the king of hearts, and ultimately South loses two trump tricks, but this time makes his contract.

Brushing . . . An Indispensable Habit For Lovely Hair

What you see in the mirror isn't the only view. There are the back and side views as well. And often, a girl's dating career can hang by a hair. If she doesn't keep her hair well-groomed and scrupulously clean, she is never the one to be in the glamour department and on regular date lists.

Dull lifeless hair is really one's own fault. You must never take that old custom of "one hundred strokes a night" lightly. It doesn't take long really, and it will help spread the natural oil from the scalp to the ends and keep them from being dry and strawlike. Brush your hair whenever you think of it during the day.

Why brush? Because it keeps your hair healthy and alive. Brushing cleans your hair between shampoos (if you don't believe it, wipe your brush on a towel every few strokes and see the soil that remains).

Above all keep the brush immaculately clean. Run comb through bristles to remove hair. Swish in sudsy hot water to which a drop or two of household ammonia has been added. Rinse well in clear water and dry in light, airy sunshiny place. Don't let brush remain wet or damp for any period, for this will cause bristles to become loose and eventually to drop out.

Brushing will bring more beauty and luster to your hair than all the creams and lotions you can buy.

Brushing helps to wake up the circulation of the scalp and encourages growth. Hair is a living thing and is nourished by the blood. Use your brush instead of a comb when arranging your hair during the day. Many girls carry miniature brushes so they can keep their hair smooth and shiny when away from home.

Immediately it becomes evident that the heart play cannot wait, because if the adversaries are allowed to come into the lead with a trump, they will establish their club trick before declarer can utilize his heart discard. Furthermore, if one of the trump losers can be eliminated, it can be done just as effectively later in the play. The question of timing in this hand therefore assumes prime importance.

The correct play is to lead a heart at trick two. If West wins and leads back a club, South takes it, cashes his other heart, and crosses to dummy's queen of diamonds. The club is discarded on the king of hearts, and ultimately South loses two trump tricks, but this time makes his contract.

Brushing . . . An Indispensable Habit For Lovely Hair

What you see in the mirror isn't the only view. There are the back and side views as well. And often, a girl's dating career can hang by a hair. If she doesn't keep her hair well-groomed and scrupulously clean, she is never the one to be in the glamour department and on regular date lists.

Dull lifeless hair is really one's own fault. You must never take that old custom of "one hundred strokes a night" lightly. It doesn't take long really, and it will help spread the natural oil from the scalp to the ends and keep them from being dry and strawlike. Brush your hair whenever you think of it during the day.

Why brush? Because it keeps your hair healthy and alive. Brushing cleans your hair between shampoos (if you don't believe it, wipe your brush on a towel every few strokes and see the soil that remains).

Above all keep the brush immaculately clean. Run comb through bristles to remove hair. Swish in sudsy hot water to which a drop or two of household ammonia has been added. Rinse well in clear water and dry in light, airy sunshiny place. Don't let brush remain wet or damp for any period, for this will cause bristles to become loose and eventually to drop out.

Brushing helps to wake up the circulation of the scalp and encourages growth. Hair is a living thing and is nourished by the blood. Use your brush instead of a comb when arranging your hair during the day. Many girls carry miniature brushes so they can keep their hair smooth and shiny when away from home.

Brushing will bring more beauty and luster to your hair than all the creams and lotions you can buy.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the many kindnesses shown us following the death of our beloved husband and father, George Jones. We also wish to thank those who sent flowers and loaned cars for the funeral.
Parthenia Jones and Daughter.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our brother and son, Thomas J. Turner, who died 1 year ago today, June 14, 1955.
Sad and sudden was the call,
Of one so dearly loved by us.
A bitter grief, a shock severe,
It was to part with one so dear.
We often sit and think of you,
And wonder how you died.
To think you could not say good-bye,
Before you closed your eyes.
For all of us you did your best,
Oh God, grant you Eternal rest.
Sadly missed by
Mary, Eliza, Pug, Dad, Dodie and Issie.

In memory of my dear son, Thomas J. Turner, who passed away 1 year ago today, June 14, 1955.
I miss you in the morning, dear,
When all the world is new;
I know the day can bring no joy,
Because it brings not you.
I miss the well-loved voice of you,
Your tender smile for me,
The charm of you, the joy of your
Arms around me.
I miss you at the noontime, Tommy
The dear touch of your hand;
The quick gleam in the eye of you
So sure to understand.
I miss you in the evening, dear,
When daylight fades away,
God be with you till we meet again
On that bright Eternal day.
Sadly missed by

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the many kindnesses shown us following the death of our beloved husband and father, George Jones. We also wish to thank those who sent flowers and loaned cars for the funeral.
Parthenia Jones and Daughter.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our brother and son, Thomas J. Turner, who died 1 year ago today, June 14, 1955.
Sad and sudden was the call,
Of one so dearly loved by us.
A bitter grief, a shock severe,
It was to part with one so dear.
We often sit and think of you,
And wonder how you died.
To think you could not say good-bye,
Before you closed your eyes.
For all of us you did your best,
Oh God, grant you Eternal rest.
Sadly missed by
Mary, Eliza, Pug, Dad, Dodie and Issie.

In memory of my dear son, Thomas J. Turner, who passed away 1 year ago today, June 14, 1955.
I miss you in the morning, dear,
When all the world is new;
I know the day can bring no joy,
Because it brings not you.
I miss the well-loved voice of you,
Your tender smile for me,
The charm of you, the joy of your
Arms around me.
I miss you at the noontime, Tommy
The dear touch of your hand;
The quick gleam in the eye of you
So sure to understand.
I miss you in the evening, dear,
When daylight fades away,
God be with you till we meet again
On that bright Eternal day.
Sadly missed by

McGeady Takes Stand To Deny Guilt In Case

Judge Dismisses 11 Of 16 Counts

Thomas Owen McGeady, 30-year-old former teller at the First National Bank, testified yesterday afternoon in U. S. District Court at the Allegany County Court House that he never had written any checks against the account of W. E. White nor taken any money from the bank.

McGeady was still on the witness stand under direct examination by William C. Walsh, one of his three defense attorneys, when U. S. District Judge R. Dorsey Watkins adjourned the trial shortly after 4 p. m. until 10 a. m. today.

There was some indication late yesterday that the trial may end either today or tomorrow.

Shortly after noon yesterday Judge Watkins granted a directed verdict of acquittal for McGeady insofar as 11 of the 16 counts of the indictment were concerned.

Records Never Found

McGeady was indicted in February on a different count for each of 16 checks cashed against White's account between August 1952 and August 1955. Investigators never found the first 11 checks on the bank's microfilm records.

Still being considered by the all-male jury are five counts involving checks cashed between November 26, 1954, and August 4, 1955, valued at a total of $6,476.96.

These five checks all were found in the bank's microfilm and the entire day's work for two of the dates, February 28 and April 22, 1955, also were discovered.

A motion for a directed verdict on all 16 counts was made by Walsh after John H. Somerville and Martin A. Ferris, assistant U. S. district attorneys, had rested their case.

In his argument on the motion Walsh said there was absolutely no evidence to connect the defendant with the last 11 counts. There was no record of the checks or how they were made out, and not sufficient evidence to have the jury pass on the question, he said.

Three checks of which the government has copies have not been traced to any particular teller in the bank, Walsh added. The only evidence concerning the other two counts was that they were listed on adding machine tapes which bore McGeady's teller number, the defense attorney argued.

Ferris argued that the evidence showed a scheme of embezzlement in which all of the checks were cashed on the same account. He was not as insistent in his argument that the last 11 counts should remain in the case as the first five counts.

Over $6,000 Involved

Still being considered are the indictments concerning a check for $354.92 dated October 28, 1954, and cashed November 26, 1954; a check for $1,986.14 dated February 28, 1955, and cashed the same day; a check for $1,374.35 dated April 18 and cashed April 22, 1955; a check for $972.14 dated June 1 and cashed June 2, 1955, and a check for $1,789.41 dated August 3 and cashed August 4, 1955.

After the recess for lunch, Walsh and his associates in defense, William Walsh and Theodore C. Waters Jr., first called John L. McGeady, the defendant's father, to the witness stand.

The elder McGeady referred to programs and newspaper clippings which showed that his son led the City Service Bowling League the last three seasons with averages of 171.2, 167.6 and 179.3, respectively. He was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the league for the 1956-57 season, his father said.

Thomas McGeady also led the Knights of Columbus Bowling League during the 1955-56 season with an average of 172, his father testified. The elder McGeady, who lives at 325 Williams Street, also said he usually paid for his son's bowling in both leagues, although not always.

Never Saw Bets

John L. McGeady also asserted that he never saw his son make bets on his bowling ability between January and May 1955. On cross-examination by Somerville, the elder McGeady said it was very hard for his son to get bets on his bowling because he was so good.

The defendant then followed his father to the stand at 2:16 p. m. and remained there until the day's adjournment except for a brief recess about 3 o'clock. He answered all questions put to him by Walsh without any show of emotion.

He explained that he lived at 236 Avirett Avenue, entered the Marine Corps shortly after graduation from high school in 1943 and spent 19 of the 30 months in the Marine Corps in the South Pacific.

McGeady returned to Cumberland and was employed by the First National Bank from March 1946 until August 1955, some nine-and-one-half years. In that period he lost only two days from work because of sickness. He worked as a clerk and bookkeeper before being made a teller in 1948. He was head teller from July 1954 until February 1955, but was then de-

Headin' Home

Roy E. Dean, Cumberland native who's been working in Argentina for 36 years, loads the family luggage into their rented car to begin the first leg of their trip "home" to Buenos Aires after a weekend visit to his hometown. With him are Mrs. Dean (left) and her mother, Mrs. E. I. deReeves, and the Deans' two children, Robert and Patricia.

In Argentina 36 Years, Local Native Visits Home

By CHARLES H. KELLY
News Staff Writer

Coming back to "the old hometown" is quite an event, especially if you are traveling from South America and haven't been home for about four years.

Roy E. Dean, a native of Cumberland who has been located in Argentina for the past 36 years, brought his family to the Queen City over the weekend for a vacation visit.

About every four years, Dean, who is employed as a sub-manager or assistant at a commercial bank in Buenos Aires, visits Cumberland.

He is affiliated with the First National Bank of Boston. Prior to working at the bank he was an employe of Wells Fargo, now the Railway Express Company.

On May 8, Dean, his wife and two children, Patricia Ann, nine, and Robert Henry, seven, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elena I. de Reeves, of Uruguay, took passage on a ship of the Argentine State Line and sailed for the United States.

They left here yesterday and traveled to Keedysville near Hagerstown, where Dean will visit the graves of his mother and father, W. Scott and Anna Eugena (Lantz) Dean.

Dean said he may drop back to Cumberland for another visit before returning home. The family expects to see historic Williamsburg, Va., then turn north to Niagara Falls, and then take an extended tour of the New England States.

The two children were here during their last visit in 1952 and, being four years older, had a more enjoyable time on this trip. They were impressed by jukeboxes and vending machines prevalent in the Queen City.

Dean put his movie camera to use during his stay and took pictures of the home where he was born on Davidson Street and also a residence where he lived on Charles Street.

His wife took some pictures of Dean entering and departing from Union Street County Building where he attended classes as a youngster, when it was the Union Street School. Dean also pointed out that he had lived in Piedmont, W. Va., as a youth.

Remarking on the weather, he said that in Argentina the temperature does not get too hot and although the mercury dips to freezing there is no snow.

The South American republic is a rich agricultural country, and cattle raising is the important industry. The auto industry also is beginning to develop there, he added.

Football, which is comparable to soccer in the United States, is the national pastime. One television channel provides viewers with boxing, basketball and other entertainment. Horse racing also is quite a popular sport.

Dean said that one change he has noticed in the Queen City is the number of automobiles. He said it seems there are more automobiles than people and all indications are that there is a "honey of a traffic problem here."

W.Va. Farmer Found Dead Of Gunshot Wound

Justice of the Peace Dewey Moyers of Franklin termed the death of Frank P. Moyers a suicide. A single-shot .22 calibre rifle was used in the shooting.

The justice of the peace (who is no relation) said the victim shot himself in the head over his right eye. Full details of the shooting were not learned late last night.

The victim, according to authorities, was in good health and the reason for the suicide could not be determined. Moyers was well known in the Franklin area. He raised livestock and farmed for a living.

Also investigating with Moyers is Sheriff Leo Skidmore of Pendleton County.

Born on the farm where he died, the victim was a son of the late Peter and Alice (Simmons) Moyers. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Edna (Fleisher) Moyers, a son, Curtis Moyers, at home and a sister, Mrs. Zadie Hill, Franklin.

Ritter Heads Post Playlot

Other officers include Mrs. Donald Ritter, vice president; Mrs. Gloria Barnstricker, secretary, and William B. Orndorff, treasurer.

Members of the executive committee are Mr. and Mrs. George Warner, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Barnstricker, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Combs, Mr. and Mrs. Ferman Saville, Robert Neat, Samuel Noel, Charles Taylor and Mrs. Clara Fehlman.

Activities at the playlot are under way and movies are being sponsored by the association at dusk on Tuesday and Thursday of each week.

The latter part of this month a "fun fair" will be held on the playlot with rides for the children, concessions, games and refreshments.

The aim of the playlot this year is to complete the ball diamond in cooperation with the City Recreation Department, and also to provide a shade area for the youngsters.

Bobby Cavanaugh and Mrs. Mae Smith are play leaders.

Tractor Trailer Ties Up Traffic

Police said the vehicle had transmission trouble as it was traveling toward Baltimore Avenue from Baltimore Street.

Woman Is Hurt In Accident On Polish Mountain

A 41-year-old Baltimore woman was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday evening with injuries suffered in a two-car crash on Polish Mountain along Route 40 east of Cumberland.

Reported in "fair" condition at the hospital is Mrs. Shirley Louis Adkins, 3810 West Cole Spring, Baltimore.

Attaches said she suffered a possible fractured right knee and severe lacerations about her forehead, left leg and body.

Tfc. J. F. Browning, of the Maryland State Police, who investigated, said the two-car crash occurred about 18 miles east of here.

Mrs. Adkins was traveling east on the highway and as she failed to negotiate a right curve, skidded on the wet pavement and rammed into a car driven by Harry Footer Twigg, RFD 3, city, who was traveling west.

The mishap occurred about 6 p. m.

Ambrose Pigeon Wins First Race

The Gilmore Valley Loft of A. A. Ambrose recorded its first victory in the Allegany Racing Pigeon Club when its pigeon, My Pal, won the 400-mile race from North Vernon, Ind., to Cumberland, the seventh old bird race of the season.

My Pal's winning average speed was 1,018.2 yards per minute. Others among the top 11 were Old Grand Dad from the Excello Loft of M. M. Green, 1,014.95 yards per minute; Jazz Bow, also from Excello Loft, 1,014.6 yards; Jim Boy, Town View Loft of Galen Beeman, 1,004.78 yards; Faithful, also Town View Loft, 1,002.26 yards; Scrap, Gilmore Valley Loft, 967.58 yards; Mr. Frostburg, Clear View Loft of G. F. Martens, 963.59 yards; Four O'Clock, Woodland Loft of Irvin Buskirk, 963.25 yards; Little Joe, MacArthur Loft of C. A. Smith, 961.75 yards; Doubtful, Woodland Loft, 958.75 yards; Flying Tramp, MacArthur Loft, 908.61 yards.

The next race will be the Captain McAtee Memorial, a 500-mile event from Vincennes, Ind. The winner will get the first leg on the memorial trophy donated by the MacArthur Loft of which the late Captain J. J. McAtee was a partner.

Farmer's Death Has Ironic Note

Attaches at the Court House yesterday called attention to a bit of irony in conjunction with the first U. S. District Court trial being conducted there all this week.

The man who was responsible for placing the new court room fixtures in their present position was killed Tuesday night in a farm accident midway through this first federal trial.

Marshall Growden Wilson, 43, Murley's Branch Road, who was killed when his tractor overturned while he was working on his farm, was foreman of the George Construction Company crew which removed the old furniture from the court room and transferred the federal court room furniture from the post office building to the Court House earlier this year.

Two Are Hurt In Collision On Greene St.

Youth Injured In Bike Mishap

Traffic along Greene Street was snarled yesterday afternoon in the 600 block as the result of a two-car headon collision which caused injuries to two persons.

In another accident a 12-year-old boy was treated at a local hospital for injuries sustained when he drove his bike into the side of a car.

Miss Mary Evelyn McKenzie, 122 Walnut Street, Frostburg, driver of one of the cars in the collision, was treated at Sacred Heart Hospital for a laceration of her head.

The other victim, Mrs. David D. Miller, LaVale, passenger in the other car driven by her husband, was treated by a local physician and reportedly had an ankle injury.

The 12-year-old boy, treated at the same hospital was James Bittner, of 642 Baker Street.

City Police Officer Ernest M. Powell, who investigated the two-car crash with Officer Louis D. Downey, said Miller was traveling north on Greene Street into Cumberland.

The car driven by Miss McKenzie had stopped at 619 Greene Street where a passenger was discharged. She pulled away from the curb and later her car traveled across the street into the path of Miller's car.

She told police she didn't know what happened. The street was wet at the time of the accident. No charges were preferred, pending further investigation. Police said damage to both cars was approximately $1,200.

Officer E. Gordon Hite said young Bittner was operating his bicycle along Decatur Street from Bedford to Frederick.

He apparently failed to heed a stop sign and ran onto Frederick Street into the side of a car operated by William D. MacFarlane, 215 Bedford Street. The mishap occurred about 5:04 p. m.

The youngster was treated at Sacred Heart Hospital for a bruise of his right leg and brush burn on his left arm, police said. He will go back to the hospital today for X-rays. No charges were preferred.

Zoning Board Meets Today On Appeals

The Zoning Board of Appeals plans to meet today at 8 p.m. in City Hall to consider at least one appeal for a building permit sought at the City Engineer's Office.

Hubert L. Gillard of 422 Valley Street is seeking a permit to build a two-story building at 424 Valley Street. According to his application the building would be 15 feet wide and 35 feet long.

The foundation would be of concrete, with walls of brick and a rubberized roof. The application was referred to the board earlier this month.

Another application which may be considered this evening is one submitted by John A. Kelly, 702 Hill Top Drive, who is seeking to build a one-story building, 26 feet wide and 36 feet long at an estimated cost of $8,000.

The foundation will be of concrete block with frame and brick walls and composition shingles on the roof. Charles R. Nuzum, city engineer, disapproved the application and Kelly has appealed to the board for consideration.

Allegany County Receives $73,823 In Tax Windfall

BALTIMORE, June 13 (AP)—State income tax "windfalls" totaling $4,336,360 are being distributed this week to the 23 counties of Maryland and Baltimore city, State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes said today.

Baltimore city receives $1,705,321.50 of the total.

The distribution results from the new pay-as-you-go system of collecting income taxes in Maryland. Under terms of the law, Tawes said, a second distribution of about $10,150,000 will follow.

Subdivisions will be required to use proceeds from the second distribution to pay on principal or interest of bonds or indebtedness certificates or for capital improvements.

State To Get $110,164 Yearly For Libraries

If President Eisenhower signs the Federal Library Services Bill which was sent to the White House after passage by the U. S. Senate June 6, Maryland will receive $110,164 a year for five years — from July 1, 1957 through June 30, 1962, according to information furnished Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian of the Cumberland Free Public Library. The state will match that amount.

Purpose of the bill is to promote the further extension and development of public library services to rural areas and to stimulate extension of library service in communities of 10,000 population or less.

If the bill becomes law, Maryland's share will be used under a plan to be prepared and administered by the Division of Library Extension of the State Department of Education to demonstrate good library service in rural areas without libraries and in areas where the existing library service is not adequate.

The Maryland Library Association believes that the people of Maryland will urge sufficient state and local support for public library services when they appreciate the informational and cultural values which the program will show. It believes that libraries in rural areas are equally as important as those in the cities.

Fourteen Maryland counties, including Garrett and Washington, have legally established public libraries which give service through branch libraries and bookmobile stops in many sections of the counties. None of these 14 county libraries is supported well enough to give library services in all parts of the counties and existing services are not good enough to satisfy the people and make them know the possibilities of good public libraries.

Allegany is one of the other nine counties which have not established county-wide library service. The others are Calvert, Caroline, Carroll, Dorchester, Frederick, Kent, Somerset and Worcester.

YMCA To Conduct Training Course

A leaders' training course will be conducted at Central YMCA June 18, 19, 20, 21, 25 and 26 beginning at 8 p. m. in Room 4. It is open to all playground, day camp and camp counselors free of charge.

Those completing the course will receive a certificate of training from the YMCA. It includes instructions in the fundamentals of leadership, singing, group games, craft techniques, swim supervision and child psychology. The course is open to both adults and young people.

Coal Truck Destroyed By Flames

A huge truck, loaded with 12 tons of coal, was practically destroyed by fire yesterday evening at Chestnut Grove on Backbone Mountain in Garrett County.

2 Local Homes Are Struck By Lightning

Fire Damage Not Serious

Lightning which struck two separate homes in South Cumberland yesterday during the electrical storm was blamed for fires which caused some property damage to the residences.

The storm hit Cumberland and area bringing some relief from sweltering temperatures which unofficially reached 99 degrees downtown about 3:30 p. m.

The heat wave is expected to continue today, according to the weatherman, who promises generally fair weather with chances of isolated thundershowers in the west this afternoon or this evening.

Two Units Called

South End firemen received a call to 908 Kentucky Avenue at 5:46 p. m. where damage was caused to the wiring in the basement of the home after the bolt of lightning had struck.

While the firemen were out on the call, Central's pumper was called into action in the other fire in that section of the city. They received a call at 5:58 p. m. and went to 100 Seymour Street.

Wiring in the attic of the home was damaged, as was part of the roof.

Power Knocked Out

At the Times-News office the unofficial temperature about 3:30 p. m. was 99 degrees, and due to the storm the temperature dropped about 23 degrees within about two hours.

Keyser reported a high temperature of 97 in the downtown section of that community where a heavy electrical storm, rain and hail was prevalent in the late afternoon.

The Tri-Towns also reported similar weather yesterday afternoon with a heavy rainstorm occurring there.

Businessmen Hit Action On Rec Area

The resolution notes in part that the "association regrets the unfortunate action of the Mayor and Council . . . thereby disregarding professional recommendation resulting in a waste of time, effort and taxpayers' money, as well as retarding a substantial permanent recreational program which is so vital to the youth of our community."

The association also commended "the untiring efforts of Cumberland's recreation director towards a permanent long range established program."

Judge Dismisses 11 Of 16 Counts

Thomas Owen McGeady, 30-year-old former teller at the First National Bank, testified yesterday afternoon in U. S. District Court at the Allegany County Court House that he never had written any checks against the account of W. E. White nor taken any money from the bank.

McGeady was still on the witness stand under direct examination by William C. Walsh, one of his three defense attorneys, when U. S. District Judge R. Dorsey Watkins adjourned the trial shortly after 4 p. m. until 10 a. m. today.

There was some indication late yesterday that the trial may end either today or tomorrow.

Shortly after noon yesterday Judge Watkins granted a directed verdict of acquittal for McGeady insofar as 11 of the 16 counts of the indictment were concerned.

Records Never Found

McGeady was indicted in February on a different count for each of 16 checks cashed against White's account between August 1952 and August 1955. Investigators never found the first 11 checks on the bank's microfilm records.

Still being considered by the all-male jury are five counts involving checks cashed between November 26, 1954, and August 4, 1955, valued at a total of $6,476.96.

These five checks all were found in the bank's microfilm and the entire day's work for two of the dates, February 28 and April 22, 1955, also were discovered.

A motion for a directed verdict on all 16 counts was made by Walsh after John H. Somerville and Martin A. Ferris, assistant U. S. district attorneys, had rested their case.

In his argument on the motion Walsh said there was absolutely no evidence to connect the defendant with the last 11 counts. There was no record of the checks or how they were made out, and not sufficient evidence to have the jury pass on the question, he said.

Three checks of which the government has copies have not been traced to any particular teller in the bank, Walsh added. The only evidence concerning the other two counts was that they were listed on adding machine tapes which bore McGeady's teller number, the defense attorney argued.

Ferris argued that the evidence showed a scheme of embezzlement in which all of the checks were cashed on the same account. He was not as insistent in his argument that the last 11 counts should remain in the case as the first five counts.

Over $6,000 Involved

Still being considered are the indictments concerning a check for $354.92 dated October 28, 1954, and cashed November 26, 1954; a check for $1,986.14 dated February 28, 1955, and cashed the same day; a check for $1,374.35 dated April 18 and cashed April 22, 1955; a check for $972.14 dated June 1 and cashed June 2, 1955, and a check for $1,789.41 dated August 3 and cashed August 4, 1955.

After the recess for lunch, Walsh and his associates in defense, William Walsh and Theodore C. Waters Jr., first called John L. McGeady, the defendant's father, to the witness stand.

The elder McGeady referred to programs and newspaper clippings which showed that his son led the City Service Bowling League the last three seasons with averages of 171.2, 167.6 and 179.3, respectively. He was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the league for the 1956-57 season, his father said.

Thomas McGeady also led the Knights of Columbus Bowling League during the 1955-56 season with an average of 172, his father testified. The elder McGeady, who lives at 325 Williams Street, also said he usually paid for his son's bowling in both leagues, although not always.

Never Saw Bets

John L. McGeady also asserted that he never saw his son make bets on his bowling ability between January and May 1955. On cross-examination by Somerville, the elder McGeady said it was very hard for his son to get bets on his bowling because he was so good.

The defendant then followed his father to the stand at 2:16 p. m. and remained there until the day's adjournment except for a brief recess about 3 o'clock. He answered all questions put to him by Walsh without any show of emotion.

He explained that he lived at 236 Avirett Avenue, entered the Marine Corps shortly after graduation from high school in 1943 and spent 19 of the 30 months in the Marine Corps in the South Pacific.

McGeady returned to Cumberland and was employed by the First National Bank from March 1946 until August 1955, some nine-and-one-half years. In that period he lost only two days from work because of sickness. He worked as a clerk and bookkeeper before being made a teller in 1948. He was head teller from July 1954 until February 1955, but was then de-

Headin' Home

Boy E. Dean, Cumberland native who's been working in Argentina for 36 years, loads the family luggage into their rented car to begin the first leg of their trip "home" to Buenos Aires after a weekend visit to his hometown. With him are Mrs. Dean (left) and her mother, Mrs. E. I. deReeves, and the Deans' two children, Robert and Patricia.

In Argentina 36 Years, Local Native Visits Home

By CHARLES H. KELLY
News Staff Writer

Coming back to "the old hometown" is quite an event, especially if you are traveling from South America and haven't been home for about four years.

Roy E. Dean, a native of Cumberland who has been located in Argentina for the past 36 years, brought his family to the Queen City over the weekend for a vacation visit.

About every four years, Dean, who is employed as a sub-manager or assistant at a commercial bank in Buenos Aires, visits Cumberland.

He is affiliated with the First National Bank of Boston. Prior to working at the bank he was an employe of Wells Fargo, now the Railway Express Company.

On May 8, Dean, his wife and two children, Patricia Ann, nine, and Robert Henry, seven, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elena I. de Reeves, of Uruguay, took passage on a ship of the Argentine State Line and sailed for the United States.

They left here yesterday and traveled to Keedysville near Hagerstown, where Dean will visit the graves of his mother and father, W. Scott and Anna Eugena (Lantz) Dean.

Dean said he may drop back to Cumberland for another visit before returning home. The family expects to see historic Williamsburg, Va., then turn north to Niagara Falls, and then take an extended tour of the New England States.

They will leave this country August 10 for their return trip "home" to Buenos Aires. Dean's wife is a native of Argentina.

The two children were here during their last visit in 1952 and, being four years older, had a more enjoyable time on this trip. They were impressed by jukeboxes and vending machines prevalent in the Queen City.

While attending classes at a private school in Buenos Aires, the children are taught both English and Spanish.

Dean put his movie camera to use during his stay and took pictures of the home where he was born on Davidson Street and also a residence where he lived on Charles Street.

His wife took some pictures of Dean entering and departing from Union Street County Building where he attended classes as a youngster, when it was the Union Street School. Dean also pointed out that he had lived in Piedmont, W. Va., as a youth.

Remarking on the weather, he said that in Argentina the temperature does not get too hot and although the mercury dips to freezing there is no snow.

The South American republic is a rich agricultural country, and cattle raising is the important industry. The auto industry also is beginning to develop there, he added.

Football, which is comparable to soccer in the United States, is the national pastime. One television channel provides viewers with boxing, basketball and other entertainment. Horse racing also is quite a popular sport.

Dean said that one change he has noticed in the Queen City is the number of automobiles. He said it seems there are more automobiles than people and all indications are that there is a "honey of a traffic problem here."

W.Va. Farmer Found Dead Of Gunshot Wound

A 60-year-old farmer of near Franklin, W. Va., was found shot to death last night about 7 o'clock in the kitchen of his home.

Justice of the Peace Dewey Moyers of Franklin termed the death of Frank P. Moyers a suicide. A single-shot .22 calibre rifle was used in the shooting.

The justice of the peace (who is no relation) said the victim shot himself in the head over his right eye. Full details of the shooting were not learned late last night.

The victim, according to authorities, was in good health and the reason for the suicide could not be determined. Moyers was well known in the Franklin area. He raised livestock and farmed for a living.

Also investigating with Moyers is Sheriff Leo Skidmore of Pendleton County.

Born on the farm where he died, the victim was a son of the late Peter and Alice (Simmons) Moyers. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Edna (Fleisher) Moyers, a son, Curtis Moyers, at home and a sister, Mrs. Zadie Hill, Franklin.

Woman Is Hurt In Accident On Polish Mountain

A 41-year-old Baltimore woman was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday evening with injuries suffered in a two-car crash on Polish Mountain along Route 40 east of Cumberland.

Reported in "fair" condition at the hospital is Mrs. Shirley Louis Adkins, 3810 West Cole Spring, Baltimore.

Apparent excessive speed and a wet highway were blamed by police for the accident.

Tfc. J. F. Browning, of the Maryland State Police, who investigated, said the two-car crash occurred about 18 miles east of here.

Mrs. Adkins was traveling east on the highway and as she failed to negotiate a right curve, skidded on the wet pavement and rammed into a car driven by Harry Footer Twigg, RFD 3, city, who was traveling west.

The mishap occurred about 6 p. m.

Farmer's Death Has Ironic Note

Attaches at the Court House yesterday called attention to a bit of irony in conjunction with the first U. S. District Court trial being conducted there all this week.

The man who was responsible for placing the new court room fixtures in their present position was killed Tuesday night in a farm accident midway through this first federal trial.

Marshall Growden Wilson, 43, Murley's Branch Road, who was killed when his tractor overturned while he was working on his farm, was foreman of the George Construction Company crew which removed the old furniture from the court room and transferred the federal court room furniture from the post office building to the Court House earlier this year.

Two Are Hurt In Collision On Greene St.

Youth Injured In Bike Mishap

Traffic along Greene Street was snarled yesterday afternoon in the 600 block as the result of a two-car headon collision which caused injuries to two persons.

In another accident a 12-year-old boy was treated at a local hospital for injuries sustained when he drove his bike into the side of a car.

Miss Mary Evelyn McKenzie, 122 Walnut Street, Frostburg, driver of one of the cars in the collision, was treated at Sacred Heart Hospital for a laceration of her head.

The other victim, Mrs. David D. Miller, LaVale, passenger in the other car driven by her husband, was treated by a local physician and reportedly had an ankle injury.

The 12-year-old boy, treated at the same hospital was James Bittner, of 642 Baker Street.

City Police Officer Ernest M. Powell, who investigated the two-car crash with Officer Louis D. Downey, said Miller was traveling north on Greene Street into Cumberland.

The car driven by Miss McKenzie had stopped at 619 Greene Street where a passenger was discharged. She pulled away from the curb and later her car traveled across the street into the path of Miller's car.

She told police she didn't know what happened. The street was wet at the time of the accident. No charges were preferred, pending further investigation. Police said damage to both cars was approximately $1,200.

Officer E. Gordon Hite said young Bittner was operating his bicycle along Decatur Street from Bedford to Frederick.

He apparently failed to heed a stop sign and ran onto Frederick Street into the side of a car operated by William D. MacFarlane, 215 Bedford Street. The mishap occurred about 5:04 p. m.

The youngster was treated at Sacred Heart Hospital for a bruise of his right leg and brush burn on his left arm, police said. He will go back to the hospital today for X-rays. No charges were preferred.

Zoning Board Meets Today On Appeals

The Zoning Board of Appeals plans to meet today at 8 p.m. in City Hall to consider at least one appeal for a building permit sought at the City Engineer's Office.

Hubert L. Gillard of 422 Valley Street is seeking a permit to build a two-story building at 424 Valley Street. According to his application the building would be 15 feet wide and 35 feet long.

The foundation would be of concrete, with walls of brick and a rubberized roof. The application was referred to the board earlier this month.

Another application which may be considered this evening is one submitted by John A. Kelly, 702 Hill Top Drive, who is seeking to build a one-story building, 26 feet wide and 36 feet long at an estimated cost of $8,000.

The foundation will be of concrete block with frame and brick walls and composition shingles on the roof. Charles R. Nuzum, city engineer, disapproved the application and Kelly has appealed to the board for consideration.

Allegany County Receives $73,823 In Tax Windfall

BALTIMORE, June 13 (AP)—State income tax "windfalls" totaling $4,336,360 are being distributed this week to the 23 counties of Maryland and Baltimore city, State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes said today.

The distribution results from the new pay-as-you-go system of collecting income taxes in Maryland. Under terms of the law, Tawes said, a second distribution of about $10,150,000 will follow.

Subdivisions will be required to use proceeds from the second distribution to pay on principal or interest of bonds or indebtedness certificates or for capital improvements.

State To Get $110,164 Yearly For Libraries

If President Eisenhower signs the Federal Library Services Bill which was sent to the White House after passage by the U. S. Senate June 6, Maryland will receive $110,164 a year for five years — from July 1, 1957 through June 30, 1962, according to information furnished Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian of the Cumberland Free Public Library. The state will match that amount.

Purpose of the bill is to promote the further extension and development of public library services to rural areas and to stimulate extension of library service in communities of 10,000 population or less.

If the bill becomes law, Maryland's share will be used under a plan to be prepared and administered by the Division of Library Extension of the State Department of Education to demonstrate good library service in rural areas without libraries and in areas where the existing library service is not adequate.

The Maryland Library Association believes that the people of Maryland will urge sufficient state and local support for public library services when they appreciate the informational and cultural values which the program will show. It believes that libraries in rural areas are equally as important as those in the cities.

Fourteen Maryland counties, including Garrett and Washington, have legally established public libraries which give service through branch libraries and bookmobile stops in many sections of the counties. None of these 14 county libraries is supported well enough to give library services in all parts of the counties and existing services are not good enough to satisfy the people and make them know the possibilities of good public libraries.

Allegany is one of the other nine counties which have not established county-wide library service. The others are Calvert, Caroline, Carroll, Dorchester, Frederick, Kent, Somerset and Worcester.
